Kol Nidre/Maariv

There is a prevalent custom for married men to wear a tallit for Kol Nidrei and Maariv on Yom Kippur. Because the brachah on a tallit may not be recited after nightfall, we are always careful to say the brachah before Yom Kippur begins. For those attending a late Kol Nidrei service this year who would like to wear a tallit, the best practice is to recite the bracha and wear the tallit before Yom Kippur begins. When one takes it off to walk to shul and then puts it back on for Kol Nidrei, no new bracha is required.
