Parashat Re'e

Re'e - Watch your step

Our Sages in the Gemara relate a story of Rav Pappa who was ascending some stairs and one of the steps broke from under his foot, which left him in a very dangerous situation. He approached Rabbi

Hiya who told him that maybe the reason for the occurrence was because a poor person came to his house and he failed to "open his hands" to him as it's written in this week's Parasha תתח את ידך. The Vilna Gaon writes that this is hinted in the Te'amim of these words. Underneath the word תתח you have the sign "דרגא" which means a "step." Underneath the words תתח את ידך you have the sign "תביר" which means "break."

Rav Pappa (who was very wealthy) failed to perform the mitzva of tzedakah when the opportunity arose and was punished with a stair breaking from underneath his foot.

The Vilna Gaon continues by expressing his wonderment at the words "ולא תקפוי את ידך רק פתוח תפתח" - "Don't close your hands, rather open your hand." Obviously if we are commanded not to close our hands we should be required to open them. He answers that each poor person or organization must be measured as to which one takes priority. When our fists are closed, all fingers look the same. However, when it's open, the fingers are different sizes. Each person, when giving tzedakah, must prioritize the importance of each organization and the amounts they receive.

May the tzedakah that we give merit us everlasting reward and may Hashem, reciprocate the kindness we display to others by showering us with much blessing and sustenance. Amen.
