Eitz Chayim Kitchen Menschen Pledge Form

There are few higher Jewish compliments to pay someone than to call them a "mensch", though, of course, a true mensch would be too modest to want to be complimented. A mensch is a person who can be relied on to act with honor and integrity. But the Yiddish term means more than that: it also suggests someone who is kind and considerate.

This year, to honor Rabbi Stern's Chai (18) celebration, the congregation is fundraising for a most exciting cause: the Eitz Chayim Kitchen Renovation project. Yes, that's right, we are re-doing our kitchen, and there will be special features designed specifically for our school and it's learning needs! Thus, "Kitchen Menschen" was created as a fun way for kids and teens to get involved with the fundraiser… and help out around the house!

Each time your child(ren) completes a household chore – in the kitchen or anywhere in your house – they can earn money towards the kitchen renovation project. Please pledge whatever amount you deem appropriate per chore (e.g., $1, $5, $10, etc) OR pledge a flat amount AND/OR ask your child(ren) if they would like to make a pledge with their own money. We want everyone to get involved and invest in this endeavor as a community. Let's get to work! ☺
