Dr. Ilan Dinstein:

Cracking the Autism Puzzle

Dr. Ilan Dinstein

Dr. Ilan Dinstein, a member of Ben-Gurion University's Department of Psychology and the Zlowtowski Center for Neuroscience, has established Israel's first neurophysiological lab at the University.

Dr. Dinstein's research aims to diagnose Autism Spectrum Disorder in the very young. Affecting 1 of every 68 children born in Canada, autism is generally diagnosed by behavioural criteria which may not be evident until precious time has been lost; earlier diagnosis leads to earlier treatment options.

Please join us to learn more about Dr. Dinstein's fascinating research.
