Nothing in life should be taken for granted. A young man who had been married for a year informed Rav Shach z'L that his wife had given birth to a girl. Rav Shach wishes him Mazel Tov and then asked will you be giving a קידוש (Kiddush)? The young man said that he had not thought about it. Rav Shach said if this would have been your first child after 10 years of marriage would you have to think twice about making a קידוש (Kiddush) of course not you would have been overcome with gratitude to G-d, so now that G-d has been so kind to you and granted you a child right away all the more so you should show your appreciation.

Sefer: Let there be rain

Wishing you a great and inspiring day!
