For more than 30 years Rav Nosson Tzvi Finkel z"l and his brother Rav Gedalya would come and have breakfast with their parents every Friday morning at 8:30 rain or shine no matter how busy they were. Towards the end of Rav Nosson Tzvi's life by which time he had been suffering with Parkinson's disease for over 25 years. His mother saw that it was too hard for him to travel and climb up the flight of stairs, so she told him "Please don't come I'll come to you". Nevertheless he kept coming each Friday morning. May his memory be a blessing.
