Dear Friends, 2 Nissan 5775 ב' ניסן תשע"ה

It is a pleasure to welcome everyone to the 29th anniversary banquet of our shul, Tiferes Yisroel. Thank you for coming, and thank you for supporting the shul. We are really pleased to be honoring longtime shul members Yaakov and Batsheva Goldman for their involvement with, and dedication, to our shul for 25 years. Their spirit, hospitality, and chesed have brought joy and friendship to many in our community.

In addition, we are presenting the Jewish Leadership Award to The Shmira Project and those who coordinate its massive efforts to daven for our chayalim in Eretz Yisroel. May Hashem hear our prayers b'rachamim uv'ratzon. Thank you to all those who have worked so hard to make tonight's banquet so beautiful.

This year's banquet is in the month of Nissan, unlike previous Tiferes Yisroel banquets which have been in the month of Adar. Adar is the month where we recognize Hashem's hand in nature, that He is always guiding the world and watching over Klal Yisroel. These are hidden events which play themselves out through the guise of the natural world. On Purim we celebrate that there are hidden events. The month of Nissan is different, as it is the month the Jewish people were redeemed from slavery in Egypt. This world-changing event was done above the order of nature in an openly miraculous fashion. Hashem changed the laws of nature during the plagues and at the splitting of the Red Sea. The intensity of the revelation was awesome and clear. This is what we celebrate on Pesach.

We all have times in life when we feel Hashem's hidden presence—that in subtle ways He is helping us and guiding us. There are other times when we feel His guidance and love for us is open and revealed, (even though we are not experiencing what is known as an open miracle). Our great tzadikim have taught us that this is why we sometimes speak to Hashem in our tefilos directly and say, “You,” and sometimes we address Him in His hidden way and say “He.” Each of these relationships is necessary in developing a complete relationship with Hashem. Each of these relationships signifies fluctuations in our perceptions and in our life experiences. The key is to reach out to Hashem in all of life's circumstances, whether He is revealed or concealed.

The month of Nissan, with its theme of open miracles, is related to the coming of Moshiach when we will once again experience Hashem's revealed presence in the world. As we move forward to the Yom Tov of Pesach, z'man cheirusainu (the time of our freedom), may we all be zocheh and blessed to experience Hashem's presence in our lives in a clear way, for us and all of Israel, lanu ul'chol Yisroel.

Have a wonderful night and Chag kasher v'sameach,

Rabbi Menachem Goldberger

Dear Friends and Family,

Welcome to Congregation Tiferes Yisroel's 29th Anniversary Banquet! We are gathering to celebrate, honor, and recognize outstanding contributions both in our shul and in the community.

Our shul honorees, Yaakov and Batsheva Goldman, have been an integral part of our kehilla, almost since the beginning. They have provided both leadership and inspiration as they have contributed their skills and talents to the development and beauty of our shul. They enthusiastically step forward when needed, help without being asked, and do what needs to be done with humor, pleasantness and love. As they embark on their next adventure in their Avodas Hashem through making aliya, we will miss them terribly, but also know that we have warm friends to greet us when we make it to the Promised Land.

We also pay tribute this evening to the organizers and volunteers who have made The Shmira Project possible (www.shmiraproject.com). The Shmira Project is dedicated to providing chizuk (encouragement), tefilos (prayer), and ma'a'sim to-vim for our holy soldiers in Eretz Israel by connecting participants with soldiers. The project is spearheaded by Yaakov and Batsheva Goldman and Eric and Elaine Gerstenfeld who have overcome many obstacles to make this possible. They have dedicated tremendous time and effort to further Achdus (brotherhood) within Klal Yisroel.

We thank and acknowledge all of the volunteers who have spent hundreds of hours to make this effort possible. May Hashem bring Moshiach soon so they can redirect their efforts to other causes!

Thank you to this year's banquet committee for all of their hard work and dedication. Banquets don't happen by themselves. From the planning, to the phone calls, to the journal layout, to the phone calls, to the phone calls, picking a menu, to the phone calls, and ... The committee has put in a tremendous amount of work behind the scenes culminating with tonight's outstanding event. Thank you!

Which reminds me of a story...

Honorees

Yaakov and Batsheva Goldman

Congregation Tiferes Yisroel invites you to join us in honoring Yaakov and Batsheva Goldman at the 29th Anniversary Shul Banquet.

Twenty-four years ago, they set out on a journey with all of their worldly possessions in a U-Haul heading south from New York City. Batsheva was pregnant with their oldest son, and they were looking for an enriching, supportive, and inspiring community in which to raise their family. They found Tiferes Yisroel and have been dedicated shul members ever since. Deeply inspired by their ongoing relationship with the Rabbi and Rebbetzin, they say that Tiferes Yisroel has been a true spiritual home for them and so many others. “From the beginning, we found the Rabbi and Rebbetzin to be very personable and down-to-earth. Right away we felt a sense of trust and understood their commitment to learning and growth.”

Along with his marketing and consulting business, Yaakov has a history of doing creative projects for the shul: the Box of Plagues, youth group events, and the Chessed Project. He currently runs a mentoring program for rabbis. Batsheva has been active in the Tiferes Yisroel Sisterhood and enjoys working on shul building and gardening projects, as well as business writing and raising their family. Both have been involved in outreach and Jewish leadership education.

The Goldmans, along with many other dedicated volunteers, helped to create and implement The Shmira Project, a source for connecting people around the world to Israel Defense Forces soldiers in times of crisis. Their son, Binyamin, inspired them to help create the Project when he became a chayal boded, a “lone soldier” without family in Israel, in 2011. The Shmira Project went into high gear during the Gaza war last summer, with over 70,000 people from over 30 countries participating on behalf of Israeli soldiers.

The Goldmans are the proud parents of Binyamin (23), Talia (20), Ruthie (18), Dovid (14) and Shimmy (7), and elated new grandparents of Chaya Sara, the daughter of Zev and Talia Goldberg. Yaakov says, “When Binyamin was born, the shul was still in the garage, so that is where he had his bris. Three years later, Tali’s kiddush was the first simcha in the ‘new shul’ in the current location on Park Heights.” The Goldmans have instilled Torah values in all of their children, and they continue to focus on spiritual growth as a family. He adds with a smile, “Yiddishkeit is so much about learning, and I love that Tiferes Yisroel has always made learning a priority.”

As their older children have settled in Israel, the rest of the family plans on fulfilling their dream and living in Israel as well. It means a great deal to them to bring together family and friends tonight, especially as they anticipate the coming transition.

We are delighted to honor them at this year’s banquet, and wish them a big mazel tov and yasher ko-ach!

Jewish Leadership Awardee The Shmira Project

This year's Jewish Leadership Award is going to The Shmira Project, a grassroots program that pairs Israel Defense Forces combat soldiers with people around the world. In the merit of learning Torah, praying, or performing acts of kindness on behalf of the IDF soldiers, the participants create spiritual protection for "their" soldiers during wartime. It is a person-to-person match, with the participant receiving only the first name and mother's name of the soldier.

The word shmira means to guard or protect, and in modern Hebrew, is also the term for guard duty. The project, called Elef L'Mateh in Israel, was started in 2006 by Rabbi Simcha HaKohen Kook, during Israel's second Lebanese War. In 2009, Rabbi Kook joined with the Bostoner Rebbe to expand the project for the three-week conflict in Gaza. It was then that Batsheva Goldman received an email from the Orthodox Union encouraging people to participate. "It was very profound that different types of Jews were seeing beyond their differences to unite for our soldiers in danger. It was clearly a moment of geula (redemption)."

In 2011, the Goldmans' oldest son, Binyamin, joined the paratrooper division of the IDF, and as the mother of a chayal boded (a lone soldier serving in the IDF without family in Israel), Batsheva reached out for some advice. "The best shmira is Torah learning," said Rebbetzin Heller of Neve Yerushalayim. "You should learn Torah in his name." "But there are so many soldiers who didn't have someone learning for them." But the realization that there were many soldiers who didn't have someone learning for them inspired the core group of Shmira volunteers to attract as many people as possible to participate before there was another conflict. Wanting to reach the widest spectrum of Jews, they set out to get approbations to support the project.

Through the support of Rabbi Menachem Goldberger, Rabbi Yaakov Hopfer, and Rabbi Aharon Feldman, who graciously gave his approbation to The Shmira Project, the dream of the volunteers became closer to a reality.

Working closely with Rav Simcha HaKohen Kook and his staff and HaRav Feldman, they created a website for the project, which was ready when the IDF seemed likely to launch a ground offensive into Gaza for Operation Pillar of Defense in November 2012. The Shmira Project had over 10,000 participants and a core group of volunteers.

This past summer Operation Protective Edge in Gaza against Hamas drew over 70,000 participants from over 30 countries. It was a true international effort with translations into French, Spanish, and Portuguese, as well as a separate Hebrew site page.

To understand that a single act of kindness, or prayer, or Torah study can provide protection for someone in danger underlies the Jewish vision of reality guided by God. We hope that The Shmira Project helps to bring the biblical partnership of elef l'mateh (half will fight and half will pray) into modern times.

Dear Abba and Mommy,

Thank you for raising us in such a fun, upbeat, To-radik house.

Your go-getter outlook has shaped us and the entire Tiferes Yisroel community.

No project is too big or small when it comes to your love of Am Yisroel — guiding tens of thousands through The Shmira Project, kiruv of all kinds, and taking care of the shul garden — are commonplace in your chessed-filled lives.

May you continue touching those around you in your next chapter in life.

Abba's baseball team cheer was,

“BE! A! MENTCH!!”

You live it, and we love you for it.

Your children,

Binyamin, Tali, Zev, Chaya, Ruthie, Dovie, Shimmy

Message from Yaakov and Batsheva Goldman

Thank you Rabbi and Rebbetzin Goldberger whose guidance and support have helped us navigate the world of Torah Judaism as well as marriage, parenthood, community responsibilities, and all the small stuff.

We want to thank our son, Binny, for his brave (crazy?) decision to join the IDF and jump out of airplanes. Without his deep commitment to the Jewish people and the Land of Israel, The Shmira Project never would have happened. All of its merits are ultimately his.

Thank you to Eric and Elaine for making The Shmira Project a reality. Your wholehearted belief in Jewish unity and real tikkun olam makes working with you an ongoing, amazing learning experience for us. You're so gifted at giving that you make it look easy.

Thank you to Glenna, Caryn, Gail, and Louis for making this evening so beautiful and meaningful. We are humbled to be the recipients of your efforts.

We want to express special gratitude for our parents, who are the real reason that we are being honored tonight. Alan and Wendy Bruck and Sam and Dorothy Goldman taught us about love and giving, the value in honoring others, the ability to surmount difficulties, and being there for each other when it counts.

To top it off, we want to thank our fantastic kids for actualizing their potential in this world in such a magnificent way: Binny, Tali and Zev, Ruthie, Dovid, and Shimmy – and granddaughter Chaya, who is just beginning the journey.

Our real thanks go to the many people in the Jewish nation whose utter self-sacrifice in Torah and army service, prayer and protection enable us to live as Jews in the 21st century.

And in particular to G-d, who is the Master Engineer of every Project.

The Shmira Project Volunteers

Over 1,300 people volunteered to work on behalf of The Shmira Project over the duration of its existence. We don't have a comprehensive list, but we do want to share what we have at this point. We apologize for any names that are omitted.

These volunteers used phone and text messaging to give out soldiers' names to participants, answered questions and reviewed materials, actively promoted The Shmira Project, provided technical and marketing resources for the website and Facebook page, organized and coordinated the soldier and participant data, and acted as translators. We give all of them our heartfelt thanks.

It is with joy and love that we wish you a mazal tov as you are honored at the shul's 29th anniversary celebration. It is most fitting to honor the two of you at this time, as you begin your ascent to the Holy Land in just five months.

Your unique contribution to Tiferes Yisroel has facilitated its physical and spiritual growth in many ways throughout your 25-year involvement. You will be sorely missed!

We wish you a wonderful evening of love, laughter, and memories to cherish and share with all of us when you begin your life in Eretz Yisrael.

We would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all the people who have given their time and energy to make this Anniversary Banquet a success. It is because of the hard work and dedication of so many people that we are able to accomplish this beautiful evening of simcha.

It is with particular gratitude that we thank

Rabbi Menachem
and Rebbetzin Bracha Goldberger

For their advice, support, and positive encouragement.

All those who occupy themselves faithfully with communal affairs — may the Holy One, blessed be He, give them their reward, and send blessing and success to all their endeavors.
