Dear Beloved Kehillas Tiferes Yisroel,

We don't want you to join our shul, we want you to join our family. Such is the long-time and well-known motto of Kehillas Tiferes Yisroel. The truth is, it's much more than a motto. It is the very fabric of our shul and how we operate and interact with each other. Part of being a family is being there for one another and working together to achieve common goals. Family first, as the saying goes.

Boruch Hashem, with Rabbi and Rebbetzin Goldberger steadfast at the helm, Kehillas Tiferes Yisroel has blossomed into one of Baltimore's most treasured congregations, promoting unity and spiritual growth in the community. We are known for our warmth, our music, and doing things a little out of the box. We are calling to you now, as our family, to come together and throw everything you have into this year's annual campaign in true Kehillas Tiferes Yisroel style to ensure that it is a thoroughly successful one.

We are thrilled to announce a new chapter in the history of the Tiferes Yisroel Banquet! Just last year, we held our first Tiferes Yisroel concert with Eitan Katz, which was a smashing success, boruch Hashem. Building on that effort, we will be having our very first online Causematch campaign to raise $72,000 on Sunday, February 19 and "Share the Music." All donations made on February 19 will be tripled, thanks to our very generous matching donors. The Tiferes Yisroel twist: if we reach our goal, this year's concert will be free to all shul members, and to all those who make donations on the day of the campaign!!!

Perhaps the most beautiful aspect of a family is diversity and acceptance, and the recognition that each family member has his or her own unique and special contribution to make. This is a huge opportunity for our kehillah to share our warmth and music with the community and for us to help ensure the necessary resources for our shul. For this campaign to be a tremendous success, we need everyone's unique talents and voice to build the energy! We need family members to help with decorating the shul, building a Facebook group, assisting with the coordination of the Causematch campaign, and making calls on the day of the campaign. We need family members to help with the concert. We are calling on you, our beloved shul family members, to dedicate yourselves, heart and soul, to every facet of this year's campaign and concert, to ensure that our kehilla will have the necessary support to continue with our vision, and see our family grow, b'ezras Hashem.

Please contact Rebbetzin Goldberger or Stuart Macklin to discuss ways you can share your unique, special talents with this year's campaign. We look forward to hearing from you, and to crossing the finish line as winners, together as a family.

72K in 1 Day

In conjunction with our Anniversary Concert with Eitan Katz, Congregation Tiferes Yisroel will be holding a fundraising campaign on February 19, "72K in 1 Day," a Causematch campaign, where all donations raised in a 24-hour period will be tripled. Help us reach our goal, and the Eitan Katz Concert is on us! For more info, please go to www.causematch.com/goldbergers. Look for our ad in the Advertiser, and do what you can to help support our shul!

Anniversary Concert

March 19 is the date for our anniversary celebration featuring a concert with Eitan Katz, and honoring longtime shul members Stuart and Esther Macklin. The Jewish Leadership Award will be presented to the Margolese Family -- Mordecai Zev, Mo and Shaina, and Binny and Brocha, for their outstanding work for the community. Mark your calendars!

Men's Melave Malka

Come join Rabbi Goldberger this motzei Shabbos for a men's Melave Malka from 8:45 to 10:30 pm in the Simcha Hall. We will be gathering with the Rabbi, R' Yehuda Leib, R' Nossi Gross and others to sing and learn Shabbos Zemiros. Pizza and refreshments!

Mazel Tov to

- Bob and Susan Rosenfelt on the bris of their grandson, Eliezer Lazar. Mazel tov to the proud parents Rabbi Daniel and Amanda Rosenfelt. May they be zoche l'gadlo l'Torah l'chuppah ul'maasim tovim.

This week's Lev Echad is in honor of:

Kehillas Tiferes Yisroel – may we be zoche to reach our goal of raising 72K for the shul with the Causematch campaign and enjoy much success with our Anniversary Concert.

Weekly “What’s Your Shailah?” with Rabbi Yehuda Leib Goldberger

Dear Kehilla Kedosha,

Per the request of many members of the kehilla, I would like to continue to write this column on a weekly basis. One way to help keep it going is by asking your shailos, either in person or by email: rabbilylg@gmail.com. I cannot guarantee that any particular question will become the subject of this column (although many of them do); however, your questions will certainly make it easier to choose a specific topic for discussion. I also believe that when the shailah comes from someone in our kehilla, it takes on a new and personal dimension. Ki Heim Chayeinu - literally! So please, ask away, and perhaps you will find your answer in the next Lev Echad!

-Rabbi Yehuda Leib

Question: I begin drinking my morning coffee at home and continue to drink it on my way to the office. Do I need to make another bracha once I leave the house?

Answer: If you begin drinking the coffee at home when you are about to step out the door and get on your way, then no additional bracha is necessary. Otherwise, you should make a shehakol once you leave the house. There is no need to say a Borei Nefashos before you leave the house; the Borei Nefashos you say when you are done drinking covers everything.

Although there is a disagreement between the Shulchan Aruch and the Rema concerning one who is in the middle of eating bread or mezonos and leaves the house, both agree that leaving the house would require another bracha on other foods. They would require another bracha even if you intended to leave the house when you made the bracha; your intent to leave has no bearing on the halacha. The change in location creates an automatic hefsek in the bracha, making another bracha necessary. This is in accordance with the opinion in the Gemara (Pesachim 101) “Shinui makom tzorich bracha,” changing location necessitates another bracha.

Yet, the Shulchan Aruch tangentially mentions travelers eating during the course of their trip without any mention of making new brachos along the way. This is also based on the Gemara which discusses how a traveler should bentch (sitting, riding, etc.), without any mention of the issue of shinui makom. The Mishna Brura explains that this is because the rule of shinui makom only applies to one who started their meal and established themselves in a particular place. Travelers do not have an established eating place. They are eating on the go and, therefore, are not considered to have changed their place; they had no place to begin with.

The Mishna Brura modifies this ruling and says that this only applies if the entire meal was on the road, not if they started out in a house. HaRav Moshe Feinstein zt”l explains that this modification only applies if the meal was started in the house while one was still involved with something in the house and they weren’t quite ready to leave. If, however, they were on their way out, then the fact that they began eating in the house does not establish the house as their place of eating.

On a practical note, if one tends to forget about their coffee (i.e. fifteen minutes later, they look down and realize they have a coffee and it’s barely even warm) while they are traveling and get involved in other things, then another bracha will be required. Despite the fact that there was no shinui makom, there was hesech hadaas – one took their mind off the bracha and the food. This is true even if one remains in one location the entire time. If one finds they have the tendency to forget, then it would also be a good idea to regulate one’s eating habits with a defined starting and stopping point, so as not to forget to make a Borei Nefashos, thus averting the need to make unnecessary brachos. It would probably boost your kavanah as well.

Fair Warning

Parshas Bo begins with, “Hashem said to Moshe, ‘Come to Paroah, for I have made his heart and the heart of his servants stubborn, so that I shall place these signs of Mine in his midst; and so that you may relate in the ears of your son and your son’s son that I have amused Myself with Mitzraim and My signs that I placed among them – that you may know that I am Hashem’” (Shemos 10: 1-2). Several years ago, while I was sitting at the Shabbos table of my dear friend, Rabbi Heshy Dachs, he asked why Hashem commands Moshe to come (בא) to Paroah instead of to go (לך) to Paroah? His answer was that Hashem was saying, “Come [with Me, and together we will go] to Paroah...” to insure Moshe that He was with him every step of the way.

A better question might be why would Hashem send Moshe back to Paroah at all, considering that he already told Moshe that He had made Paroah’s heart stubborn? Why would Paroah, who had previously rejected each of Moshe’s warnings up until this point, suddenly decide to pay credence to anything new? Or the exact opposite could be considered, as the Torah states that Paroah admitted after the plague of hail, “This time I have sinned; Hashem is the Righteous One, and I and my people are the wicked ones” (ibid. 9:27), which seems to imply that he would succumb to any future demands made by Moshe, and would not need any more warnings in order to do so.

Rashi states that Moshe is, in fact, being commanded here to “come to Paroah” and warn him, and Hashem’s making Paroah’s heart stubborn is precisely the reason that a warning was necessary, as his compliance is by no means a foregone conclusion (Mizrachi). HaRav Moshe Feinstein zt”l solves this kasha by offering the following explanation: We can say that Hashem told Moshe, “Even though it will do no good to warn Paroah since I have hardened his heart in order to place these signs in his midst for you to relate to your descendants, still you must give him a warning in My Name.” The lesson here, according to Reb Moshe, is for judges and courts of all generations: “Even if you are convinced that someone is so obstinate in his wicked ways that all the warnings in the world will make no impression on him, it is not for you to look into people’s hearts, and you must still warn him and apprise him of the repercussions of his actions before you can impose punishment on him.” A gutten Shabbos.

Weekday Maariv

We have changed the winter davening schedule and are now davening Maariv only at 8 pm, Monday through Thursday. Please let Rabbi Goldberger know if you can join the minyan, and he will add you to the list of Maariv minyanaires.

Shiur with Rabbi Yitzi Weiner

We are excited to announce another new shiur given here at TY in the main sanctuary by Rabbi Yitzi Weiner. This time R’ Weiner will present an engaging new series, “Holy Days of Compassion: Lessons of Kindness from Jewish Holidays,” which will run from 8:15 to 9:15 pm on Monday nights. There will be five more sessions focusing on the hidden messages of kindness found in the rituals and celebration of Tu B’Shevat, Purim and Pesach. The shiur will run through March 6. Please RSVP at rabiweiner@achim.org. The series is open to men and women, and everyone is invited and encouraged to attend.

Boys’ Beis Medrash

Looking to enhance your son’s Shabbos and shul experience? TY is now offering a brand-new, interactive learning program upstairs in the Beis Medrash for boys ages 8 to 12 years old, Shabbos mornings after krias haTorah.

The program, led by Itchy Weingot, will include a closer look at the weekly Parsha and an introduction to Biur Tefillah and/or Hilchos Shabbos. Kiddush and refreshments will be served.
