Rabbi Yitzi Weiner's New Shiur

Join Rabbi Yitzi Weiner for a look at moral dilemmas that come up in our everyday encounters with others. When should we be silent? When to speak? When to be honest? When not to be so forthright? Monday nights, July 3 and 10, from 8 to 9 pm in the main shul.

Want to Be a "Minyanaire"?!

Want to impress your Creator? Looking for a way to increase your "spiritual equity"? Come join the TY minyan. We are looking for a few (10+) good men ages 13-120 to join our daily minyan. Shacharis is at 6:30 am during the week, 8:30 am on Shabbos, and 8:00 am on Sundays. Mincha/Maariv begins 10 minutes before shkia; please check the seasonal davening schedule or the Lev Echad for exact times. Extra credit if you are one of the first ten in shul to daven.

Rabbi's Shabbos Shiur

Rabbi Goldberger's Shabbos afternoon shiur in the Rambam's Hilchos De'os begins one hour before Mincha. All men and women are invited and encouraged to attend; photocopies will be available.

Camp Yom Tov

For the past several years, Talia Raun has done a fantastic job as Camp Yom Tov chairperson, and we thank her for all her hard work. However, this year she is stepping down, and we are looking for someone new to serve as chairperson. We are also looking for a few volunteers to help supervise. Please let Dov Pear know if you can chair this noble endeavor by contacting him at dovpear@gmail.com.

Women's Tehillim Group

The Women's Tehillim Group meets every Sunday at 10 am in the Nancy Taffel Annex. All women are invited to attend.

New Shul Succah

Tiferes Yisroel will be retiring the old succah this year and replacing it with a new one that will be easy to assemble and will retain the much-beloved art work from our original structure. Every shul member can have a share in the project by contributing a small amount. The expenses will be covered with an $18 donation, but you can have a share in the succah with a donation of any amount. To help sponsor this project, please go to the shul website and click on the "Shul Succah Project" under upcoming events. Thank you for supporting our shul and the new succah!

Mazel Tov to

- Rabbi Zvi and Felicia Graber on the engagement of their grandson, Joshua Nehrer, son of Sarah and Dr. Jonathan Nehrer, on his engagement to Michelle Patkin in Israel. May they be zoche to build a bayis ne'eman b'Yisroel.
- Avi and Ruth Eastman on the birth of a granddaughter, born to Aryeh and Naomi Eastman in Eretz Yisroel. May they be zoche l'gadla l'Torah l'chuppah ul'masim tovim.
- Gregg and Rachel Levitan on the marriage of their daughter, Adina, to Uri Rabinowitz. May they be zoche to build a bayis ne'eman b'Yisroel.

Support Our Maaser Vendors

Patronize one of our maaser vendors, tell them you saw it at TY, and they will give maaser to the shul from your purchase!

The Weekly Parsha

Parshas Chukas

By Rabbi A. Leib Scheinbaum

"This is the decree of the Torah, which Hashem commanded, saying..." (19:2)

One of the close chassidim of the Klausenberger Rebbe, z"l, recounts that he had the "privilege" to be with the Rebbe in the Warsaw Ghetto prior to their transfer to Auschwitz. It was Shabbos Parshas Chukas, 1944, as the Rebbe sat down to deliver his Torah lecture during Shalosh Seudos. He cited the opening pasuk of our parshah, then continued with the following: "Zos" is an acronym for (zayin) (aleph) (taf), "zachor al tishkach," "remember and do not forget." If one has the desire to retain his Torah study, to hold it in his memory, he can follow three suggestions as guidelines for not forgetting what he has learned. First, tzivah, "was commanded." The gematria, numerical equivalent, of tzivah is 101, alluding to Chazal's maxim that one should study everything that he learns 101 times. Indeed, they add that one cannot compare what one studies 100 times to that which he reviews 101 times. That one extra time makes a world of difference.

The second suggestion is Hashem. One should conjure up in his mind that he is standing before Hashem. This will enable him to remember his learning better. Third is leimor, "saying." He should articulate that which he is learning. This will also assist in the process of internalizing the Torah knowledge into his memory bank.

The purpose of citing this dvar Torah is to emphasize the saintly Rebbe's ability to think and remain immersed in Torah, despite the pain and deprivation to which he was subjected. It also demonstrates the commitment and devotion of his chassidim who listened and remembered this dvar Torah sixty years later.

"This is the (Torah) teaching regarding a man who would die in a tent" (19:14)

In the Talmud Berachos 63b, Chazal derive from this pasuk that the words of Torah firmly endure in a person who kills himself for it. This is a reference to those who give up their lives, who devote themselves fully to the study of Torah. Nothing stands in the way of their commitment to Torah study. The venerable Rosh HaYeshivah of Mir Yerushalayim, Horav Eliezer Yehudah Finkel, z"l, sustained a major heart attack two years prior to his passing. A number of days after the event, he was visited by Horav Shlomo Lorinz, Shlita. The Rosh HaYeshivah lamented that he had no time to sleep because he had to study seven blatt, double pages, of Talmud and ten chapters of Rambam. "Perhaps the Rosh HaYeshivah should ask the cardiologist if it is advisable to strain oneself under such conditions," Rav Lorinz suggested. Rav Leizer Yudil (as he was fondly called) replied, "The Rambam clearly states, 'Everyone is obliged to study Torah, even the elderly and the sick.' Why do I have to ask a doctor, if the Rambam, who himself was a physician, has rendered the decision for me?"

This has been the attitude of gedolei Torah, the giants of Torah, towards its study. They did not look for excuses, nor did they accept them. They did what they were supposed to do, and this is the reason that they have become gedolim. No shortcuts, no excuses, just Torah study as if their life depends upon it.

Moshe's Sin

Parshas Chukas contains the cryptic laws of the Parah Adumah, the red heifer, which is considered by our Sages as the "quintessential chok" of the Torah. In fact, so complicated and mysterious are these laws, that even Shlomo HaMelech, the wisest man who ever lived, could not fathom its meaning. A chok (decree or statute) of the Torah is one that is simply beyond human understanding. Since all the laws of the Torah stem from Hashem's wisdom and have deep esoteric meaning, one could say that the entire Torah is a chok. This being the case, the mitzvah of Parah Adumah is no more elusive than the mitzvah of tefillin or tzitzis; albeit these mitzvos make sense on a p'shat level, the deeper, more spiritual understanding remains unresolved. I would like to suggest that there is another chok in this week's parsha that seems just as puzzling and unfathomable as the laws of Parah Adumah - the sin and subsequent punishment of Moshe Rabbeinu.

After the death of Miriam, the well that had traveled with klal Yisroel in her merit disappeared, leaving the people to once again file complaints against Moshe. "Hashem spoke to Moshe, saying, 'Take the staff...and speak to the rock...You shall bring forth for them water from the rock...' Moshe took the staff... as He had commanded him. Then Moshe raised his arm and struck the rock...abundant water came forth... Hashem said to Moshe... 'Because you did not believe in Me to sanctify Me...therefore you will not bring this congregation to the Land that I have given them'" (Bamidbar 20: 7-12). As he was commanded, Moshe took the staff and went with Aharon to summon the entire assembly and give them water in such a way that G-d's Name would be sanctified. He succeeded in drawing forth water from a stone, but did not sanctify the Name, at least in the way and to the degree to which he had been commanded. The exact nature of his sin is puzzling and has been variously interpreted by the commentators. Whatever it was, the sin caused Moshe and Aharon to lose the privilege of entering the Land with the nation (Artscroll Stone Chumash).

Artscroll continues by writing that virtually all the commentators grapple with the question of defining exactly what was the sin of Moshe and Aharon. In the course of his comments, Ramban declares, "the matter is a great secret of the mysteries of the Torah." Rashi's view is that they sinned in striking the rock, rather than speaking to it, as they had been commanded. The Rambam states that Moshe sinned in becoming angry, as he excoriated the complaining people, "Listen now, O rebels..." (ibid. 20:10). This sin of anger was compounded because whatever Moshe said was a reflection of G-d's will, and if Moshe was angry with them, then, by implication, Hashem must be angry as well. But, as Rambam states, we do not find anywhere in the chapter that G-d was angered by the people's complaint. R' Chananel, whose view is shared by Ramban, holds that the key words are Moshe's rhetorical question, "Shall we bring forth water..." (ibid. 20:10), which implied that he and Aharon had the power to produce water from the rock. Moshe should have said, "Shall Hashem bring forth..." This would explain why G-d said that Moshe and Aharon had not sanctified His Name. Abarbanel agrees with Rashi that the immediate cause of the punishment was that Moshe struck the rock, but he holds that there was an underlying cause: Moshe and Aharon had erred before, but G-d did not call them to account until after this sin. Aharon had had a hand in making the Golden Calf, which caused national suffering; Moshe had dispatched the spies, whose false report had brought about forty years of wandering and the death of an entire generation. It would have seemed unfair for Moshe and Aharon to be permitted to enter Eretz Yisroel while all the rest of their generation perished in the wilderness. Therefore, when they committed a sin that was worthy of a punishment of some sort, G-d chose to keep them out of the Land also (Artscroll Stone Chumash).

The Malbim offers his own insight based on pasukim from Parshas Devarim, where Moshe begins his rebuke of the people before his imminent death: "Hashem heard the sound of your words, and He was incensed and He swore, saying, 'If even a man of these people, this evil generation, shall see the good Land... Except for Calev... With me, as well, Hashem became angry because of you, saying, 'You, too, shall not come there.' Yehoshua bin Nun...he shall come there" (Devarim 1:34-38). The pasuk states "Hashem became angry [with me] because of you, l'ma'anchem, which implies that Moshe's punishment was because of the outcry of the Jewish people, not because of his own sin. The Malbim writes: "The Sages of the Midrash say that if Moshe had brought the people to the Land, they would have conquered it not through war but rather by Hashem alone, Who would have felled their enemies before them. Furthermore, had Moshe entered the Land, he would have built the Beis HaMikdash which could never have been destroyed, ushering in the Messianic Era, the eternal, final redemption of tikkun olam." But because the Jewish people were not worthy to enter the Land with Moshe Rabbeinu at the helm due to the incident of the meraglim, Hashem decreed that the entire generation (with the exception of Calev and Yehoshua) would die in the midbar and not enter the Land, including Moshe and Aharon. Malbim continues: "This decree upon Moshe was not final, however. Had the new generation, the generation that entered the Land, been of perfect faith unlike their wayward and rebellious fathers, then Moshe could have led them to the Land and brought the final Redemption. At 'mei merivah,' however, the new generation displayed their lack of faith, and by hitting the rock, Moshe opened new veins of dissent within their hearts. Hashem thus saw that they were not worthy to have Moshe and Aharon lead them to the Promised Land, to build the Temple, and to bring the Final Redemption that would brook neither exile, nor destruction, nor any evil." The Malbim concludes by suggesting that it was not because of Moshe's sin that he could not enter the Land, but, rather, the lack of faith in Hashem on the part of klal Yisroel. A gutten Shabbos.
