Father/Son Learning

Join us for Father/Son Learning this Motzei Shabbos, from 8 to 9. It's a wonderful way to hold onto the Kedusha from Shabbos as you and your son(s)/grandsons share this special time together.

Pizza and refreshments will be available at the end of learning, from 8:30 to 9, along with stories of our holy Tzaddikim. We will meet upstairs in our beautiful Bais Medrash.

This Shabbos/Motzei Shabbos

- 8-9 pm. Father/Son Learning.
- 9:30 pm. Men's Melava Malka.

Banquet

Congregation Tiferes Yisroel is pleased to announce our 29th Anniversary Banquet on March 22. Our honorees are Yaakov Jon and Batsheva Goldman, and the Jewish Leadership Award will be presented to The Shmira Project, Pairing IDF Soldiers with People Worldwide.

You can send in your reservations and your ad in honor of the Goldmans, The Shmira Project, or in appreciation of Rabbi and Rebbetzin Goldberger. You can register for the dinner and/or create an ad and pay for it online at <https://tiferesyisroel.org/app/register/banquet> with PayPal or your own credit or debit card.

You can also send your ad to banquet@tiferesyisroel.org or mail it along with your check to the shul — Congregation Tiferes Yisroel, 6201 Park Heights Avenue, Baltimore, MD 21215.

Break the Fast

The Tiferes Yisroel Sisterhood is inviting everyone for a break-fast after the Megilla reading and before the Purim Shpiel, around 7:45 pm, this Wednesday, in the Simcha Hall.

If you plan on joining us, please RSVP by Sunday, March 1, to Elka Rottman at elkarottman@gmail.com or leave a message at 410-358-5427, and tell us how many will be attending from your family. There will be a $5 per person charge. Under 12 years old is only $2.50. The Sisterhood will be subsidizing the break-fast (bagels, salads and hamentaschen), so this is a really good deal!

If anyone is able to come to help set up at 6 pm, which is one hour before the Megilla reading, please also respond to Elka.

A Freilichen Purim!!

Purim

To the Kehilla HaKedosha:

The four mitzvos of Purim are:

- 1) Hear the Megilla once by night and once by day;
- 2) Sh'lach Manos — Prepared food gifts. At least two foods to at least one person;
- 3) Matanos l'evyonim — Gifts to the poor;
- 4) Purim Seudah during the day on Purim and, according to the minhag, extended into the night.

Wednesday, March 4, is Taanis Esther. Any woman who is pregnant or nursing and any person who is sick should not fast at all.

Please give cash or a check made out to "Tiferes Yisroel RDF" to Rabbi Goldberger or Nathan Franco, our Gabbai Tzedakah for matanos l'evyonim. The funds will be distributed on Purim day, b'ezras Hashem. Most of the money is distributed locally and some is distributed on Purim day in Eretz Yisroel.

Rabbi Goldberger

Men's Melava Malka with Rabbi Goldberger

There will be a pre-Purim musical men's melava malka this motzei Shabbos, February 28, at 9:30 pm in the shul Simcha Hall.

Hot buffet and deli! Live music! Singing and dancing! And, there is no charge for admission.

This week's Lev Echad is in honor of:

Fathers and sons and learning and pizza

The Weekly Parsha

The Continuous Flame

by Shaul Yosef Leiter

(from www.kabbalaonline.org)

Perhaps one of the most important principles of Jewish life that each of us tries to pass on to our children is the concept of “according to the effort is the reward.” We all understand that you must make an effort to get results, but is there a spiritual connection? The Sefat Emet gives us an insight based on this week’s portion that not only should help us understand the “system,” but also should encourage us to push ahead, even when it is really hard.

The first verse of the portion begins: “And you should command the Jewish people, take for yourself clear pressed olive oil for the lamp, to raise up a continuous flame.”

On the words “to raise up a continuous flame,” Rashi explains that one must ignite it until there will be a flame that is able to rise up on its own. How does this apply to us? A person must realize that when he does anything of value, it is not with his own human ability and strength alone — rather, each time he acts, he arouses divine power. G-d put a point of holiness within each person’s soul. When a person truly makes an effort, then the power he or she applies engages inner divine strength, resonating one on the other, allowing the divine power to awaken and express itself. This is the inner meaning of Rashi’s comment, that one must light the flame until it, the inner power, is able to rise up and do its part, unassisted. It is only when this happens that the result of our actions are established and can continue unimpeded. Something that is done seemingly with human strength alone is temporary; only something impacted by the inner divine strength can be everlasting.

In the next verse we also have the words, “arrange it.” Our main effort has to be to arrange things, to put each thing, ready, in its place. If we do that, the inner divine power will guarantee that those elements will cleave to their source. Through this, we fulfill the verse “... to raise up a continuous flame.” Only when the inner divine strength elevates something back to its source can it continue forever.

The Lubavitcher Rebbe takes it a step further: Who is commanded to light the lamps? The Kohen, the priest who spent all of his time serving G-d. Today, in a certain sense, every person who takes upon him/herself to serve G-d is considered to be a Kohen. Just as the Kohen was commanded to light the Menorah, so also each person is obligated to light up the soul of another Jew. How is this done? Until the other person’s “flame,” i.e., their soul, can continue to shine unassisted. What is the measure? The verse says, “until morning” — referring to the dawn of the Age of Mashiach, when the whole world will be illuminated with G-d’s light.

Know Your Shul Members — Yocheved Schechter

Yocheved Schechter grew up a dyed-in-the-wool Chattanooga, third generation. Her parents, members of a Conservative shul, helped found the Chattanooga Jewish Day School in the mid-1970s. There, under a series of Orthodox principals, Yocheved’s knowledge of Jewish traditions grew. At age nine she stopped eating out and started keeping strictly kosher. In NCSY in her early teens, she took on a new mitzvah after each shabbaton. Her parents sent her to yeshiva in Memphis, and after graduating, she attended Bais Rivka seminary in New York, then Machon Alta in Sfias.

Knowing mainly that she wanted to teach, she took a post in a nursery school in Milwaukee, where she learned that the lake effect — winds off Lake Michigan creating sub-zero temperatures for days — is “nothing to play around with.”

Yocheved has since lived in Chicago, New York and Baltimore, working as a teacher, a chef and a cooking teacher. In June she will graduate with certification as a health and wellness coach. Her emphasis is on helping women integrate healthier habits into their lives and achieve goals such as weight loss, increased energy and stress management.

“Health happens in the kitchen,” she says, “not at the doctor’s office, not at the drug store, not at school. I want to help women understand their power to change the health of their family, according to their own individual style and taste, in little steps to have a happier life.”

Yocheved’s children are Yosef, 25, an EMT in Bakersfield, CA; Shmuel, 23, who served in the IDF and is a senior in psychology at IDC in Herzliya; Mendel, 20, who works as a cell phone technician in Baltimore and studies music; Shalom DovBer, a third-grader at TA who plays drums and loves animals; and Sarah Rivka, an art lover in first grade at Bnos.

“I’ve been to so many shuls all over,” says Yocheved. “Out of all of them, Tiferes Yisroel is the warmest, most welcoming and nonjudgmental. We feel so warm and accepted in the shul. The Rabbi and Rebbetzin are so kind.”

Outside of work and parenting, Yocheved enjoys knitting, as well as spinning and dying wool, which she gets from a friend who has a sheep farm.

Her favorite mitzvah, unequivocally, is baking challah. “It’s the most grounding thing I can do. If I go too long without making challah, I get a little disoriented.

“There are so many life lessons: if the dough is not rising, you should never give up. I’ve had loaves that were not rising, and I’ve put them in the oven, and they’ve popped up. You never know when someone is going to bloom; everyone is on their own schedule. The most important ingredient in challah is the attention you give it. The attention, and the kavanah.”

Reb Elimelech Film

Tiferes Yisroel proudly presents Rabbi Hanoch Teller screening his new film, “Reb Elimelech and the Chassidic Legacy of Brotherhood,” March 8, at 8 pm at the shul.

Rabbi Teller will provide the introduction and participate in a question and answer session on this feature-length film tracing the birth of the Chassidic movement.

The cost is $10 for an individual, $18 for a husband and wife, and $25 for a family.

There is limited seating. To reserve your spot, go to tiferesyisroel.org/donate.html where you can use PayPal or your own credit card (after clicking on the PayPal button). Select “other” from the drop down, and fill in “Film Hanoch Teller.”

Men’s Bais Medrash

Our Bais Medrash Program for men is on Monday and Wednesday nights from 8 to 9, followed by maariv. There are different learning opportunities of varying lengths to make it possible for everyone to participate. As an added incentive, there will be freshly brewed coffee and refreshments.

- Monday
  - 8-8:35, Reb Shlomo Goldberger, Mishna Brura
  - 8-9, Jay Taffel, Rambam Hilchos Tzitzis
  - 8:45-9, Shuki Nissan, Chovos Hatalmidim
- Wednesday
  - 8-8:35, Reb Shlomo Goldberger, the Weekly Parsha
  - 8:45-9, Shuki Nissan, Chovos Hatalmidim

Want to Be a “Minyanaire”?!

Want to impress your Creator? Looking for a way to increase your “spiritual equity”?

Come join the TY minyan. We are looking for a few (10+) good men ages 13-120 to join our daily minyan. Shacharis is at 6:30 am during the week, 8:30 am on Shabbos, and 8 am on Sundays. Mincha/Maariv begins 10 minutes before shkia; check the seasonal davening schedule or the Lev Echad for exact times.

Message from the Prez

Holy Kehilla,

Believe it or not, the sap has started flowing and Spring is just around the corner. If you're starting to feel a little stir crazy, take that energy and put it to good use by helping each other out. In the survey, almost everyone who responded said they would be happy to donate some of their time and energy to help out the shul. Here's where we could use some help:

1. Purim shpiel ideas and actors.
2. Deliver Sefer Torah and sefarim to house of mourner with Nate.
3. Publicize shul events.
4. Participate in minyanim and Bais Medrash learning.
5. Invite someone new to your Shabbos table.

Here are some other ideas that were shared in the shul survey:

It's really nice when a lot of people show up, whether it's a Shabbos meal, Chanukah carnival, minyan, bais medrash, shiur or Purim Shpiel. There's a great energy/synergy when we share a commitment to our shul community by being consistent in our attendance and involvement (and it makes the Rabbi happy).

If it's acceptable to the Rabbi, I think we could, excuse the expression, "market" the Rabbi and Rebbetzin in Baltimore. He's often a scholar in residence outside Baltimore. Everyone in Baltimore loves them. How about family-oriented shabbatons in town that feature the Rabbi? Or a kumsitz or concert? These could be ways to draw new members in addition to enriching the community and raising funds.

The Taharas haMishpacha course with the Rebbetzin (advertised to the whole community) was a big hit, and a money maker, too, I believe. A series with the Rabbi on the big issues of life/spiritual growth could be a great draw.

Ways for the kids and teens to build connection with the Goldbergers. Ask the Rabbi sessions? Kids' melava malkas? Or...???

Have an awesome Shabbos, marbim b'Simcha.

Dov

Baruch Dayan HaEmes

Congregation Tiferes Yisroel is saddened to learn of the passing of Mr. Bernard Levitan, father of Gregg Levitan. The funeral was in Chicago. Shiva has concluded.

May Hashem comfort the Levitan family among the mourners of Zion and Jerusalem.

Project Chavrusa

The idea is simple: we are filled with understanding and sometimes even inspiration for the good that we should do. But the strength to independently act on our knowledge is very difficult indeed. Behold! Project Chavrusa! Based on the wisdom of Chazal, the solution to unfulfilled dreams is here. Simply arrange a chavrusa for any amount of time on Monday and/or Wednesday nights in our Bais Medrash, and that commitment will, G-d willing, compel us to bring our ambitions to fruition. We can do this together.

You're Invited!

We cordially invite the entire kehilla to join us March 14, Shabbos Mevorchim, for a kiddush welcoming our new members: Yosef David and Ruth Berman; Paltiel and Brooke Brodsky; Eli and Lena Fleming; Shaina Gleiberman; Baruch and Rus Jankowitz; Ilan Roth; and Yocheved Schechter.

If you would like to help sponsor this kiddush, please contact Caryn Blum at 410-358-5478 or carynblum@icloud.com.

Free Banquet Ticket

We are looking for volunteers to do photography and videography at the banquet so that we can have that as a memento for the honorees. The volunteers will be our guests for dinner at the banquet. If you know of anyone, please have them contact Caryn Blum at carynblum@icloud.com.

Rabbi Goldberger's Navi Shiur for Women on Sunday Nights

Join us for our women's shiur with Rabbi Goldberger on Sunday evenings. We are learning Navi, "Shmuel," about Dovid HaMelech both prior to his becoming king and during his reign. Please bring a Sefer Shmuel with Rashi. The shiur is held from 8 to 9 pm in the Nancy Taffel Annex.

Coming Up

- March 7: Bar Mitzvah of Moshe Passe. Kiddush following davening sponsored by his parents, Saul and Toby Passe.
- March 8: Screening of Reb Elimelech.
- March 14: Shabbos Mevorchim kiddush.
- March 22: Banquet.

PUSHKA CAMPAIGN

Sign up by emailing shlomhuva@aol.com. The pushka challenge is to put whatever amount of money one is able into a pushka every day or as often as possible. The recommended amount is only 36 cents a day.

When your pushka is full, please empty it into a ziplock bag marked with your name, and drop it into our locked mailbox at 3310 W. Strathmore Avenue. If it is difficult for you to drop it off, please contact Shlomo and Ahuva Goldberger at 410-358-4456 to arrange a pickup. If you need a shul pushka, you may take one from the shul window sill, and they will be replenished as needed.
