WHEN STRESS IS GOOD

A ROSH HASHANAH MESSAGE

BY RABBI HASKEL LOOKSTEIN

Several years ago I picked up a book on stress, hoping that it would give me some insight into how to avoid excessive stress in a life and profession in which stress seems to be somewhat endemic.

The book made many suggestions which I promptly forgot. But one has remained with me and I find it very helpful. The author stated that when a situation arises which is totally beyond one's control there is no point stressing over it. Just relax and accept it.

He gave a graphic example: You are in a traffic jam. The cars are not moving. You have a very important meeting with people who are waiting for you and with whom you cannot possibly get in touch. Essentially, you have two choices: you

TOVA AND NORMAN BULOW SHABBAT SCHOLAR NOVEMBER 9-10

A distinguished communal Rabbi for over 35 years, Rabbi Riskin continues to change the face of Modern Orthodox Jewry in Israel and the Diaspora. Born in Brooklyn, Rabbi Riskin graduated valedictorian, summa cum laude from Yeshiva University in 1960, where he majored in Greek, Latin and English literatures. He received his Smicha (rabbinical ordination) from the eminent Rabbi Joseph B. Soloveitchik. Rabbi Riskin holds a Master's Degree in Jewish History and was awarded his Ph.D from New York University's department of Near Eastern Languages and Literature.

can pound your fists on the steering wheel, tense up every muscle in your neck and shout expletives from the privacy of your car which you would not want anybody else to hear; or, you can sit back, tune your radio to WQXR or some other music station, and listen to the music while watching all of the other drivers around you banging their fists on their steering wheels, tensing up every muscle in their necks and shouting expletives in the privacy of their cars which they would not want anybody else to hear.

In other words, when you can't do anything to change the situation just let it go and don't get yourself all stressed out over something beyond your control.

It's good advice which I have tried to follow on any number of occasions and which I recommend to others. Stress in situations which you cannot change doesn't help anybody.

However, some stress is actually good for us, like the stress that we feel when we know we should be correcting something which is actually within our control. An example is the High Holy Day season which is upon us. Judaism teaches us that when it comes to human behavior everything is in our control. If we have made mistakes, we can correct them. If we have hurt people, including members of our own family, we can apologize. If we have said things about people which are unkind, unfair, or even simply insensitive, we can change our mode of speech and we can do concrete things to correct the sins and errors of the past. If we have failed to help another in distress, we can resolve to do better the next time.

This is the season of the year when we have an opportunity to confront our own weaknesses and failings and effect a real change in our behavior. Such change is totally within our control and whatever stress is involved in effecting such change is healthy stress.

The late Rev. Reinhold Neibuhr coined an expression which has become the slogan for alcoholics anonymous. It is relevant far beyond substance abuse. "God, grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference."

May we all be blessed with a year of health, happiness and peace.

The Day of Atonement is traditionally known as Yom Kippurim, a phrase the Zohar translates as "A Day Akin to Purim." This etymological assertion is astonishing, for the two holidays appear to be polar opposites. One is dedicated to feasting, and the other to fasting; one is a day of reverence, and the other, of revelry. In truth, however, comprehending the connection between these two days is essential to understanding what atonement is all about.

TO DELIVER A TESHUVA SHIUR
"TESHUVA FOR ISSUES IN

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 17
AT 8:00 PM

A leading Orthodox teacher and thinker, Rabbi Berman has made numerous contributions to the Jewish community. Ordained by Yeshiva University, at which he also earned a B.A. and an M.H.L., he also completed a J.D. at New York University and an M.A. in Political Science at the University of California at Berkeley. He served as a congregational rabbi at Beth Israel in Berkeley, CA; Young Israel of Brookline, MA; and Lincoln Square Synagogue in New York. Rabbi Berman served as Chairman of the Department of Judaic Studies of Stern College for Women of Yeshiva University for 13 years, where he still serves as an Associate Professor of Jewish Studies. He is an adjunct Professor at Columbia University School of Law. In 1997, Rabbi Berman founded and became Director of Edah, an organization devoted to the invigoration of Modern Orthodox ideology and religious life.

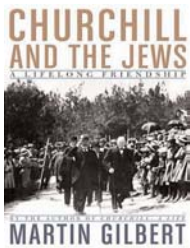

Rabbi Berman will speak about the imperative of t'shuva as it relates both to sins committed against God and against one's fellow person. Indeed, repentance in the area of interpersonal relationships has its own unique laws and dictates beyond the general components of t'shuva. This lecture will specifically examine the notions of t'shuva and repentance in relation to the sensitive areas of wrongs committed by friends towards each other.

Special Book Release at KJ

“Churchill and the Jews” with Author Sir Martin Gilbert

Saturday, October 27 at 8:00 pm

Sir Martin Gilbert was born in London in 1936. As a young schoolboy, he saw a war-damaged city slowly return to life. After two years in the British Army he studied history at Oxford University and in 1968 he was appointed the official Churchill Biographer, a task he continues to this day. He has lectured at the White House, the Ottawa House of Commons, the Academy of Sciences in Moscow and Kiev, and in universities and public forums throughout the United States. He was knighted in 1995, having written 78 books, and is at present working on number 79. His histories of the First World War and Second World War are best-selling classics.

The story of Churchill's long and positive relationship with Jews and Zionism; his often unpopular support for the Jewish National Home in Palestine; his wartime efforts to help the Jews in Nazi-dominated Europe; his post-war support for the State of Israel; his friendship with individual Jews; and his understanding of Jewish communal and national aspirations.

NATALIO FRIDMAN, DAVID W. SHIPPER AND DAVID STONEHILL CHOSEN FOR TORAH HONORS ON SHEMINI ATZERET AND SIMCHAT TORAH

The Officers of the Congregation are very pleased to announce that three outstanding members of the community will be honored as Grooms of the Law for the celebration of the completion of the Torah on Simchat Torah. Their installation will take place before the Musaf service on Shemini Atzeret.

CHATAN TORAH
Natalio Fridman

Our Chatan Torah was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, to parents who left Poland immediately before World War II at a time when the United States was closed to immigration from Eastern Europe. Natalio Fridman came from a family of talmidei chachamim. On his mother's side, his grandfather was an Av Beit Din and the Rabbi of Stanslivav in the Province of Warsaw. Natalio was educated in Buenos Aires where he received a civil engineering degree at the University of Buenos Aires. During his college years he was very involved in the United Jewish Appeal and active in the University's Zionist center and head of the student division of Argentinian Friends of Hebrew University.

When he came to the United States, he began working on engineering projects involving bridges and water structures. After receiving a Professional Engineering license Natalio began consulting in computerized design structures. In 1972, he founded Consist in Brazil, a company which has grown into a worldwide computer software and services organization with headquarters in New York City.

Natalio's wife, Anne, a Ramaz alumna, has a Master's degree in psychology from Columbia University, as well as an MBA from NYU. Anne and Natalio are the proud parents of David, a Ramaz alumnus and a Yeshiva University graduate who currently works as an equity research analyst.

Natalio is the President of American Friends of Ariel Institutes, the rabbinic training and Jewish educational program of Rabbi Shear Yashuv Cohen, Chief Rabbi of Haifa. He has served on the Boards of Trustees of the Fifth Avenue Synagogue and KJ. He and Anne have been regular worshipers in our synagogue for almost 20 years and have been very involved in and generously supportive of the religious, educational and communal services of both KJ and Ramaz. It is an honor for the congregation to salute Natalio Fridman as our Chatan Torah.

CHATAN BEREISHIT
David W. Shipper

Born and raised in Lawrence, Long Island, David Shipper received his yeshiva education at Hillel (now known as HAFTR). He holds an undergraduate degree in journalism from New York University and a JD - earned at the age of 23 - from New York Law School. He has served three terms as President of New York Law's Alumni Association and sits on its Board of Trustees.

David is a third generation member of KJ. His maternal grandparents, Leon and Hertha Sigall, of blessed memory, were longtime members. Leon was also a Trustee of the congregation. David's parents, Herbert K. Shipper, of blessed memory, and tibadeil l'chaim tovim, Judith S. Shipper have also been longtime members of the congregation.

It is a special privilege for us to honor David as Chatan Bereishit because he is a Manhattan coordinator of Hatzolah. He also serves on the Executive Board of - and is counsel to - Chevra Hatzolah, the citywide organization which oversees the fourteen geographical divisions and one thousand volunteers of the organization. David interacts with various city, state and federal agencies, advocating on behalf of Hatzolah and the Jewish community at large. When he is not volunteering his time, he is a partner in the firm of Shipper & Shipper. He was admitted to the practice of law both in New York and Florida and concentrates mainly in the areas of transactional real estate and trusts and estates.

There is another, less known reason why we are so happy to honor David as Chatan Bereishit: Forty-four years ago, we gave the same honor to his grandfather, Leon Sigall, of blessed memory.

CHATAN MAFTIR
David Stonehill

Reared in Rye, New York, David is a graduate of the Westchester Day School (founded by KJ member Mortimer Propp who was our Chatan Torah last year) and an alumnus of the Ramaz Upper School, Class of 1986. It was at Ramaz that he met Robyn Price, Class of 1989, whom he eventually married in 1998.

David received his B.A. from Harvard, and undergraduate degrees in business and law from Harvard as well. He is a partner at Och-Ziff Capital Management, a hedge fund where he is responsible for private/structured equity investments. Robyn and David joined KJ in 1998, immediately after their marriage. Both are extremely active in the congregation's affairs and in Ramaz as well. Robyn is a past President of Keshet, Raffle Chair for the Ramaz Parents Council Auction, and a member of the Early Childhood Center's Liaison Committee. She also serves as an Officer of the AMIT Board and Chair of its New Generation Board. Robyn and David will be honored at this year's AMIT Dinner on November 11 (and would welcome attendance and support from anyone in the KJ/Ramaz community).

David has been a Co-Chair of KJ's extremely successful Israel Bond Campaign since 1999. He is also a past President of the Ramaz Alumni Association and, currently, he is a Trustee of both the congregation and the school, working with the Building Committee on the new synagogue/school construction project. Together with Jacob Doft and J.J. Hornblase, David has been a cofounder of the Midtown Lunch and Learn Shiur with Rabbi Meir Soloveichik for whom and for which he supplies the sushi every week.

The best thing about David and Robyn, of course, is their three wonderful daughters, Brooke (Ramaz, 1st grade); Emma (Ramaz, Pre-K); and Jordana who, with God's help, will attend Ramaz in the fall of 2009.

What a special privilege it is for us to honor David Stonehill as Chatan Maftir this year.

Our Chatanim will be officially installed on Shemini Atzeret, Thursday, October 4. We will rejoice with them at that time and on Simchat Torah night and day as we celebrate three families whose love of, and commitment to, Torah merit our honor and tribute.

10 Days of Repentance

(Rosh Hashanah - Yom Kippur)

- Accept new, improved behavior and responsibility in relating to God and one another.

THE MIKVAH ON THE EVE OF YOM KIPPUR

Every year on the eve of Yom Kippur, there is a custom for men to immerse in the mikvah in preparation for this holy day.

One does not have to be a holy person to participate in this activity. On the contrary, for those of us who are just trying to be observant Jews, it is an added inspiration and preparation for a great day of introspection.

Our practice at KJ is that we observe this custom as a group before the morning service. All MEN are invited to assemble at the mikvah, 419 East 77th Street (between 1st and York Avenues) at 6:30 AM on Friday, September 21. Everyone will have the opportunity to immerse and then we will return to KJ for Shacharit services.

For more information please call Rabbi Meir Soloveichik at the synagogue office (212-774-5630).

YOM KIPPUR

- Avoidance of food, drink, washing, lotions and oils, and marital relations.
- Refraining from wearing leather shoes (wear a pair of non-leather footwear).
- Men are strongly encouraged to wear a white kitel.
- Candlelighting available prior to 6:35 PM in the Synagogue House and Gottesman lobbies before Kol Nidre on Friday, September 21.

SUKKOT

- All meals with bread or mezonot should be eaten in a Sukkah.
- Lulav and Etrog will be used beginning on Thursday, September 27, but are not used on Shabbat.

You may purchase a Lulav and Israeli Etrog through KJ by contacting Rabbi Elie Weinstock in the synagogue office. (Reservation forms have been sent to all members under separate cover.) Deadline is Sunday, September 16.

WELCOME TO KJ'S NEW DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS, OFFICE MANAGER, AND OUTREACH ADMINISTRATOR

Eva Erlich
Director of Operations

Eva is our Director of Operations who bears responsibility for High Holy Day seating; Sukkah & Shabbaton meal reservations; Purim Mishloach Manot; all food & beverage needs for synagogue, affiliate and congregant affairs; events bookings and scheduling; managing the Foremost catering account; preparing the Book of Remembrance; liaising with and supporting volunteer event Chairs; preparing the quarterly KJ Bulletin and annual KJ Program Guide; administering special synagogue programs and initiatives; and computer database management.

Eva graduated from Penn State University in 2003 with a degree in Criminal Justice. While in school, Eva was involved in the Justice Association. She then interned at the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office as a mediator. Before moving to New York, Eva worked for an Import Company. She joined the KJ staff in July 2006.

Eva can be reached at Eva@ckj.org or 212-774-5670.

Arona Schneider
Office Manager

Arona came to KJ in January of 2005. She currently resides in Washington Heights, where she is an active member of her synagogue, helping to coordinate the monthly Kiddushim and the Shul's annual journal luncheon, as well as moderating her community's email listserv. She has established a part-time business creating monograms for wedding invitations and benchers. She also volunteers for Heart Mind & Soul, an organization that helps Jewish teens explore and grow in a fun, supportive and safe environment. Arona incorporates her many talents to perform her full-time responsibilities at KJ, which include membership, publicity, and creative design work. Odds are when you call the synagogue office, the friendly voice on the other end is Arona's. In her spare time, Arona enjoys spoiling her niece and nephew and traveling with friends.

Arona can be reached at Arona@ckj.org or 212-774-5674.

Sara Filler
Outreach Administrator

There is a new face in the KJ office! Sara Filler is new Outreach Administrator, having started in late June. Sara, a Palo Alto native, graduated From Stern College in 2006 with a degree in Music. While in school, Sara was a member of the Stern Rock Band, the YU Jazz Band and hosted a College radio show. She also is an experienced kick-boxer and is a certified instructor. Sara will put her creativity and energy to good use for the KJ Beginners Program by managing all aspects of the program as well as overseeing the marketing and recruiting initiatives that help expand the program. She will also be helping out in the administration of other KJ and community-wide programming. Sara welcomes the opportunity to work in our community and help serve KJ.

Sara can be reached at sara@ckj.org or 212-774-5678

KJ COLLEGE CONNECTION NEEDS YOUR CHILD'S INFO

With the fall season upon us, we have once again begun collecting the dormitory addresses of the children of KJ Members who are studying at a college or graduate school away from home.

The KJ College Connection sends free gift packages during Chanukah and Purim each year, containing candies, Chanukiahs, Mishloach Manot and other holiday-related items. If your child is studying away from home at a college or university in the United States, please update their mailing information (even if you think we already have it) by e-mailing Eva@ckj.org with each student's name and exact dormitory mailing address or campus package delivery address.

KJ Beginners Program to Launch Friday Night Service

Building on the momentum of the growing popularity of its Shabbat morning services, the KJ Beginners Program will launch a Friday Night Beginners Service every week at 6:30 pm starting October 26. The service is open to all members of the community looking for an extra burst of Shabbat spirit in an environment of friendship and Jewish learning. Turn Friday night into Shabbat with the stirring melodies of Rabbi Shlomo Carlebach as sung by KJB Chazan Shilo Kramer, and the spiritual insights of Rabbi Elie Weinstock. Bring family, bring friends; be uplifted, be inspired. The service will be followed by a light Kiddush and a chance to meet and socialize.

KJ B'NEI MITZVAH PROGRAM

KJ is happy to offer a newly expanded learning program for boys and girls from our community reaching bnei mitzvah age. The KJ Bnei Mitzvah program is an opportunity for parents and children to explore, in creative and interactive ways, the challenges and opportunities of reaching bar and bat mitzvah.

The Bat Mitzvah program follows a curriculum developed by MaTaNa, the world-renowned Jerusalem academy for women's Torah scholarship, which focuses on Jewish female role models from the Matriarchs to Nehama Leibowitz.

The Bar Mitzvah program features a customized curriculum developed by educators at KJ and Ramaz, focusing on some of the key elements in becoming a Bar Mitzvah. Through the Jewish sources, it explores the mitzvah of Tefillin, the meaning of responsibility, and the importance of daily mitzvot, ritual practice and Torah study in a way that is hands on, exciting and meaningful.

Through text study, projects and interactive learning, each parent/child "chavruta" connects with these Jewish sources and becomes a partner on the spiritual journey of what it means to be a Jewish adult today.

HISTORY AT HOME WITH RABBI DAVID FLATTO NOVEMBER 17 AT 8:30 PM CLASSICAL JEWISH LAW IN COMPARATIVE PERSPECTIVE

In this lecture we will compare and contrast various ancient legal systems with the Jewish legal tradition. Specifically, we will analyze aspects of the biblical and rabbinic legal tradition by studying them alongside other contemporaneous systems, including those described in ancient Near Eastern, Second Temple, Greco-Roman and Dead Sea Scroll legal writings. This lecture aims to highlight the distinctive characteristics of the Jewish legal tradition by exposing ways that its jurisprudence diverges from other classical legal systems.

KJ MEN'S CLUB FILM SERIES*For the entire community"Home Game"*Featuring Producer Avi Abelow
Sunday, September 9 at 7:00 pm

"Home Game" documents the story of graduating 12th graders from the Israeli village of Netzer Hazani during their last vacation before adulthood. Until then, their ritualized summers of beach, ball and fun usually focused on the annual youth final four basketball competition. Yet their 2005 summer vacation turned into something else entirely because the Israeli government began to implement its plan to remove them from their homes in Gush Katif, Gaza as part of the Middle East peace process. Instead of just competing on the basketball court, these youngsters also found themselves forced to compete on their 'home' court as well.

"Storm of Emotion"With the Producer
Micky Rabinovitz*Sunday, October 14 at 7:00 pm

The 1982 peace agreement with Egypt obliged thousands of people to leave their homes in the Sinai desert. From the options they were given by the Israeli government, many chose Gush Katif in the Gaza Strip as their new home. In a cruel twist of fate, the Israeli government then ordered the evacuation of the Gaza Strip in August 2005 to progress the peace process; a decision that created political and social turmoil.

Presented in conjunction with the Consulate of Israel

"Swimming in Auschwitz"With the Director Jon Kean*Sunday, Nov. 4 7:00 pm

During the Holocaust, six Jewish women, from different countries and different backgrounds, found themselves deported to the notorious concentration camp, Auschwitz-Birkenau. This film attempts to chronicle that experience through those same female eyes. They speak of camp families and faith, uplifting one another while trying to remain human. It was this path of spiritual resistance that, while not responsible for their direct survival, led to their ability to survive with relatively healthy minds and spirits despite the brutality of their surroundings.

"Unsettled"With the Director
Adam Hootnick*Sunday, Nov. 18 at 7:00 pm

Explore the impact of policy on the lives of young people. When the Israeli government announces that it will withdraw from the Gaza Strip, it means lifeguards Lior and Meir will be forced to leave their home - Gaza's "Palm Beach" - forever. For Neta, a religious filmmaker, the pullout plan sets off a desperate struggle to convince Israelis and the world that the withdrawal is a crime against God. Soldiers Yuval and Tamar must prepare for a mission against other Israelis, putting aside their own emotions to face angry protestors and the prospect of attacks. Ye'ela joins a cross-country tour in support of the withdrawal, even as she mourns a sister killed by Palestinian terrorists.

AM HASEFER BOOK
DISCUSSION CLUBFor the entire community"Farewell, Babylon: Coming of Age in Jewish Baghdad"*With the author Naim Kattan*Sunday, October 21 at 8:00 pm

This evocative memoir tells the story of a young man coming of age in the turbulent 1940s, of his discovery of learning, of work, of friendship, of patriotism and all that love of country means, especially to an Iraqi Jew. He and his friends, both Jewish and Muslim, attempt to bridge their ethnic divide by passionate discussions in coffee houses and by trying to forge a new Iraqi literature. However, larger political events around them work to drive them apart.

"Awake in the Dark"With the author Shira Nyman*Sunday, December 9 at 8:00 pm

This book is peopled by characters embarking on journeys of self-discovery; they unearth the past and the secrets that shaped them. In "The House on Kronenstrasse," a woman returns to Germany to find her childhood home; in "The Porcelain Monkey," the shocking origins of an Orthodox Jewish woman's faith are revealed; in "The Lamp," the harrowing experiences of a young woman leave her with the perfect daughter and a strange light; and in "Dark Urgings of the Blood," a patient is convinced that she shares a disturbing history with her psychiatrist.
