RABBI'S DESK

One of my sisters' favorite possessions is a tambourine she received from our grandparents when she was just a young child. My grandfather told her that when Mashiach comes, she can use it to play with Miriam, just as she played it after the splitting of the sea.

Now, the tambourine doesn't sound like a fancy instrument, it only has one note. Yet this is in fact why Miriam chose it. While most Jews in Mitzrayim wavered in their faith, Miriam lived by the motto: I believe in Hashem and so the best is yet to come. That "One Note" attitude appeared time and time again in her life, and inspired a whole generation of righteous women in Mizraim to defy logic and continue having children in those scary and genocidal times.

For my sister to cherish this gift from our grandparents makes me aware that our current Nashim Tzidkanyos (Holy Women) have the same DNA as their ancestors. And may we one day in the very near future hear that jingling brilliant noise.

Be Jewish, Live Jewish, Stay Jewish
