RABBI'S MESSAGE

Depth Perception

Tazria begins a lengthy discussion of the enigmatic spiritual ailment called Tzaraas. Since it is a spiritual affliction, it does not render the victim 'Tameh' until the Kohen pronounces them to be a 'Metzora.' The Mishnah teaches that only a Kohen diagnostician who can see in both eyes may render judgment on the metzora. A Kohen who can only see with one eye is disqualified from rendering judgment.

Why is the Kohen diagnostician disqualified?

Rabbi Ben Zion Kaganoff, writing on the 9th anniversary of Yom Ha'atzmaut, 1957, explains that such a Kohen is incapable of seeing the complete picture. Through that one eye he sees only a blemish.

However, the human eye comes in duplicate, not because it provides double vision but, because it provides deeper vision. Explains Rabbi Kaganoff, "One must look at faults in others with two eyes - the one eye which sees the negative and the other eye which examines the cause forthrightly and honestly and wants to, and tries to, cure the fault." Such a Kohen can see that the person is more than just his blemish. A Kohen who lacks this depth perception may not render judgment on another.

Like the Kohen of old, we must use both our eyes when we inevitably find ourselves judging another person. It is not enough to see the blemish. We must see the positive and try to envision the possible as we hold out hope for even the most blemished amongst us.

In this historic moment, we are able to feel the weight of the exile upon us more than any time in recent memory. We are reminded of the terrible cost of our petty hatreds, our toxic resentments and our judgementalism. Now, more than ever, we must redouble our efforts to see one another with two eyes - and a bit more depth perception.

In so doing, may we merit to heal the self inflicted wounds on our people and be worthy of the blessings of geulah shleimah, bimheira b'yameinu.

Good Shabbos
