SHALOM AND WELCOME

... to Jerusalem's premier egalitarian Masorti (Conservative) synagogue. Beit Kneset Moreshet Yisrael is made up of English speaking olim and native Israelis. Locals and tourists attend our shul on weekdays, shabbatot, and chagim. Our worldwide Friends Of Moreshet network gives the opportunity for Jews in all countries to have membership in a captivating Israeli Beit Kneset.

Conservative Judaism is intended to be the nexus between Jewish tradition and the modern world...

Beit Kneset Moreshet Yisrael is that meeting place.

PARSHAT VAYIKRA - פרשת ויקרא

As we begin reading the Book of Leviticus – especially with the early chapters' emphasis and descriptions of sacrifices – how does the reader find a connection between the ancient practices of Israelite altar worship and practices of the modern Jew? In truth, the connection is quite intense and intimate and it begins with the fact that nowhere in the Five Books of Moses are the Jewish people informed or instructed about daily prayer. There is a Midrash that makes philological (linguistic) links to actions of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob as engaging in morning, afternoon and evening prayer – but our sages do not claim that the actions of our patriarchs are the foundational origins for a Jew's obligation to daven 3 times a day. The source, the root, the origin of Jewish prayer is the sacrificial system. Why do we say the Amidah (also termed the Shemoneh Esrei) each morning, afternoon and night? The Torah instructs that each morning and each afternoon there was to be a daily sacrifice in the Temple and that the remains of the sacrifices are to burn into the night. When the Temple was destroyed in 70 C.E. – davening during these three times each day became the uniquely Jewish form of sacrificial service to Gd.
