

What would you like to learn in January?

From Hate to Hope Men's Club Winter Brunch. Sunday. January 19

From 2forseder blog:

On October 27, 2018, the bottom fell out of my world. After hours of waiting and worrying, the worst thing possible happened —my wonderful mother-in-law, Joyce Fienberg, was one of the 11 murdered at the Tree of Life synagogue while she prayed as she did every Shabbat. The weeks that followed were the most difficult of my family's life—Joyce was the glue that kept our extended family together.

During our Shiva (week of mourning), we were held up by thousands of people, both family and strangers, Jews and non-Jews. The outpouring of love and support still gets me through each day. What I heard over and over was, "How can I help?" At first, I thought they meant, "How can I help you get through this sorrow?"—something you typically say to a mourner. After a while, though, I realized they were also saying, "How can I help prevent this agony from happening again?"

Men's Club is honored to welcome Marnie Fienberg as the speaker for our winter brunch.

An OT member, Marnie is co-founder of 2 for Seder, an international initiative piloted last year across North America, and inspired by the kindness and generosity of her mother-in-law, Joyce Fienberg, one of the victims of the Pittsburgh shooting.

Marnie speaks at North Shore Jewish Center, Tisha B'Av 2019
From 2 For Seder FB page.

Marnie and 2 for Seder encourage individual actions to fight back against anti-Semitism by engaging with our neighbors and building bridges of support.

We look forward to learning at OT about God's presence, prayer, and ritual throughout our Scholar in Residence weekend, January 24-26, with Rabbi Dr. Eliezer Diamond

Rabbi Dr. Eliezer Diamond is the author of numerous books and chapters on rabbinic culture, the rabbinic period, prayer, asceticism, and ethics. He is currently editing a commentary on Yerushalmi Pesachim written by the late Professor Louis Ginzberg, as well as a book on prayer.

The prayer volume will address the problem of cognitive dissonance for the contemporary worshipper and will offer readings of traditional liturgy that use midrashic methodology to find meaning and relevance in these prayers for the modern Jew.

Dr. Diamond has taught in a variety of settings, including Stern College, the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College, the 92nd Street Y, and several Ramah camps. Dr. Diamond was ordained at the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary of Yeshiva University and received his doctorate in Talmud from JTS.

OUR 16TH ANNUAL MISHLOACH MANOT FUNRAISER

And still going...

One of the mitzvot of Purim is to give bags of delicious treats to friends and neighbors.

This is called Mishloach Manot.

Once again our volunteers are making it easier for you to fulfill this mitzvah.

At the same time, Olam Tikvah will benefit from your generosity.

Shortly, you will receive a Mishloach Manot Packet in the mail, explaining how to order your Purim greetings and bags.

The bags will be filled with yummy goodies and delivered by volunteers.

There are some delivery restrictions, which will be explained in your Mishloach Manot Packet.

In your packet you will also find a flyer explaining how to purchase extra bags for non-OT friends and family.

If you have not received your Mishloach Manot Packet by early February, or if you have any question, please call the Main Office, 703-425-1880.

As always, thank you for your continued support.

Open Letter TO THE WORLD
We, the families of the Pittsburgh Synagogue Shooting, want to thank you for your support and love over the past year.
Our families lost 11 irreplaceable, beautiful Jewish souls. The sorrow and agony was deeply personal and unending. Through your unwavering support, you showed us that we are all one in our sorrow. You showed that the mindless hate that stole our loved ones has no place in America.
Thank you for showing us that we are one Community - one Jewish, one interfaith, one Pittsburgh, one country, and one world. We are truly stronger together.
With love from the families of:

In February the OT Assistant Rabbi Search Process Begins

By Michelle Pearlstein, Search Committee Chair; and Rabbi David Kalender

This summer, we will say goodbye to Rabbi Ravski as he completes his wonderful five-year tenure as our rabbi and friend. Stay tuned for farewell plans in June.

Because some of you are familiar with the search process and others are not, we appreciate the chance to share the roadmap we will follow over the coming months.

The Roadmap

The Search Committee has been working hard for a few months and will guide us through this vigorous and energizing process. The Committee has focused on completing an extensive questionnaire (designed by the Joint Placement Commission of the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism and the Rabbinical Assembly) about OT, for use by potential candidates. This document requires us to deeply consider who we are and what kind of community we aspire to be. Therefore, the transition becomes an opportunity for self-assessment and evaluation of where we are on the paths we have chosen.

The questionnaire requests data—how many people come to various services, who leads them, how many children are in our various schools, what does the youth program look like, what is in our adult study and social action programs, and what are our demographic trends? It's a great exercise to study the metrics, so that we truly understand the reality and don't just have 'a sense of things.'

At the same time, the transition allows us to consider our aspirations. In what ways do we want to grow our congregation? Is there a particular segment of the congregation that needs new or special attention? Is there an unserved population within (or outside of) OT? Are there communal challenges to be addressed, distinct elements that must be protected? And how do we imagine a new rabbi will help us achieve those goals?

It is critical that we ask these questions periodically, so that we never become a community that does what it does because 'that's how we did it last year.'

Olam Tikvah is a kehillah k'doshah—a sacred community—because we look simultaneously and profoundly into tradition, our contemporary experience and our dreams for the future. This transition helps us chart a course that draws us closer to a life of spiritual growth, supportive community, intellectual heights, and joy, in a thoughtful and intentional fashion.

*OT rabbis meet at 2017 AIPAC National Rabbinic Symposium
L-R, Rabbi Joshua Ben-Gideon; Rabbi Ita Paskind;
Rabbi David Kalender; Rabbi Evan Ravski*

The Search Committee is chaired by Michelle Pearlstein, our 3rd Vice-President. The committee is charged with the task of identifying the qualities and abilities the next Assistant Rabbi should have to respond to the needs of OT, and to assess the ability of each candidate to provide these attributes.

Selected to represent a cross section of the OT community, the Committee includes Jeff Borenstein, Arnold Golub, Walt Meyer, Naomi Saad, Sara Silverman, and Judy Werbel. The committee is completing the questionnaire described above. It will also help prepare a set of our own questions, for the soon-to-be ordained-candidate interviews in New York, at JTS.

OT President Brittanie Werbel will join us in the 2nd week of February to interview the graduates. There we will extend invitations to visit for the weekends of February 21 and 28, and March 6, 14, and 21. We don't anticipate bringing in five rabbis, but those are the national dates for visits.

Weekend Visits

On those weekends, there will be multiple opportunities to engage with the candidates during services, a D'var Torah, and a study session. Each candidate will also meet with selected members of the OT Board, professional staff, and the Search Committee, whose members will also manage the logistics of each visit.

Additionally, and critically, there will be a process for the OT membership to provide feedback on the candidates, so that the Committee and Rabbi Kalender will be able to make a recommendation to the Board of Directors.

There will be more details about the visits as they draw near. In the meantime, there is a dedicated email address, so if you have questions, please send them to rabbisearch@olamtikvah.org.

Looking forward to an exciting month.
