THANK YOU JUDY
A Virtual Retirement Tribute
December 20, 2020
As the members of the Board of Action for Post-Soviet Jewry we want to tell you what a pleasure it has been to work with you over these many years. We appreciate all that you have done as Executive Director of APSJ. It is an honor to welcome you as an Emerita member of the board. We wish you all the best in your retirement.

Members of the Board of Action for Post-Soviet Jewry
I first met Judy in the fall of 2000. I was helping my cousins who lived in St. Petersburg, Russia. They had just received notice that they had been granted an interview in Moscow. In my queries for help I had been told that Judy Patkin was the person to talk to about the interview process. I called Judy and she told me to come to the office. When I arrived, she handed me a two-page list of possible questions. She told me clearly that it was particularly important to be able to answer the questions. With that list I was able to help my cousins prepare. Their interview was a success and they received refugee and parole status. Judy’s help was invaluable in securing their visa status.

A year or so later I joined the Board of Action for Post-Soviet Jewry as Vice President and the following year became the President of the Board. My first trip with Judy was in October 2003. Four of us traveled to Ukraine and Belarus to visit with our community coordinators and clients. It was the first of 9 or 10 trips I made with Judy. We met with many elderly and occasionally young needy Jews. Sometimes their stories were uplifting, other times sad and depressing. But always the visits and Judy’s personal attention lifted spirits. Our travels included long road trips over unbelievably poor roads in Ukraine, several van breakdowns on the highway, on one occasion an unheated hotel room in freezing temperatures, an overnight train trip from Kiev to Dnipro in a crowded sleeper car with no available lower bunks, and a few side trips to cities of our ancestors. We saw first-hand the revival of Jewish life where none had really existed during the Soviet years. Our adventures were many and fascinating.

It has been such a pleasure to work and travel with Judy.

Barbara Karchmer
President of the Board of Action for Post Soviet Jewry
Judy Patkin embodies what it means to live as a global Jewish citizen and care for the most vulnerable both here and around the world.

On behalf of CJP, I express deep gratitude to Judy for her many years of leadership at Action for Post-Soviet Jewry and for her pioneering work with our sister city of Dnipro. Both Adopt-a-Bubbe and the Warm Houses are critical initiatives that continue to provide social connection, clothing, food, and medicine to elderly Jews in need in Dnipro and the surrounding vicinity.

Judy’s passion and commitment for Jews around the world is inspiring. On behalf of CJP, we thank you for paving the way and showing our community how to do more, give more, and care more for our Jewish brothers and sisters around the world.

Dear Judy,

All of us at Temple Isaiah join in saluting you for all of the extraordinary work that you have done throughout the years on behalf of those trapped by the oppression of Soviet Jews, and then, subsequently, supporting those trapped by the poverty that their circumstances in the former Soviet Union brought upon them. Your absolute dedication and leadership have made a material difference in the lives of countless individuals, not only those who have been the direct beneficiaries of these efforts, but everyone who is had the privilege to support these efforts. You have spearheaded, facilitated, and led the efforts to fulfill two critical mitzvot: pidyon shvuyim - the captives; and gemilut chasadim - acts of lovingkindness that make a material difference in the lives of those in need.

All of us who know you know how you have undertaken these efforts from a place of deep commitment, never seeking fanfare or recognition, always pressing forward simply for the reward of the work itself and the difference it made. You have been a blessing to us at Temple Isaiah, serving as our first woman president, and to our greater Jewish community, along with all those who have been and continue to be blessed by the efforts that you have initiated and carried forward.

Judy, may you continue to grow from strength to strength

Inspired by Judy and her dedication and action over these decades.

Shirley & Charles Hurwitz
I first met Judy Patkin in the 1990s, when I read that Dnepropetrovsk had become a sister city of Boston. Since both of my mother's parents had emigrated from there in 1912, I had an intense interest in the city. I went down to the Action office in Waltham to see if they had any names of current residents. The answer was basically "no," but both Judy and the late Sheila Galland were so cordial, and the cause so compelling, that I ended up getting involved with their work. Over the years, I played a variety of roles and watched the organization struggle to reinvent itself after glasnost. The ultimate irony is that I put an ad in a Jewish paper that the local rabbi published, along the lines of "American cousin looking for descendants of..."--and heard from my mother's first cousin, who send a picture of their grandfather she had never seen!

But that is just a side note in the story of my relationship with Judy. I never got over being impressed with her energy, her compassion, her single-minded dedication to the underserved, almost forgotten Jews of Eastern Ukraine. I could never get over her ability to travel under arduous conditions and to use her time abroad to meet with as many people as possible. Her clients were the "pensioners," as she called them, and her pain at the straits they found themselves in was palpable. She kept up a remarkable schedule and wrote lengthy trip reports recording her activities and observations.

Back home, she worked tirelessly to build partnerships, establish relationships, and enlist both financial and other support for her pensioners. Her activities ranged from working with refuseniks/emigres and local rabbis to collecting left-over clothing from temple rummage sales. If no one else could help her, she did it herself.

I think it is not a secret to note that, when times were hard, she didn't take any salary. She could never stop, not even slow down, hardly ever even take time off. In every way, on every day, this was a labor of love.

Judy is one of the most incredible people I have ever met. She MADE Action for Soviet Jewry, kept it alive, and is the single person most responsible for its success. No tribute to her is sufficient, but I hope that she feels cherished and respected on this day devoted to her.

Carol Clingan
I admire her devotion to the cause.

Dear Judy, I consider myself very luck for having worked with you for the last 10 years. I have learned so much from you. We've been through a lot together and have shared some great times. Please be well, and thank you!

Marina Javits
Judy is perhaps the most remarkable and unselfish woman I have had the privilege of knowing and working with over many years. Her commitment and passion to the Jews of both the Soviet Union and the Former Soviet Union is unparalleled. Highly intelligent, pragmatic and determined, Judy was both Puach and Shifra to all Jews in need there. Undaunted in spirit, she is Action for Soviet and Post-Soviet Jewry! May Judy go from strength to strength in the years ahead, and rich in the knowledge that she has most definitely made a difference.

Barbara Palant

You are a quiet hero. I will always be grateful for the contact names for hook ups in 1990 and your eagerness to accept supplies over the decades that followed. I wish we could have traveled together. With best wishes always and thanks for your tremendous work. Sincerely,

Ann C B-H
In 1978 (many, many years ago), it was Judy's expert advice and coordination that made it possible for my colleague Rabbi Stanley Davids and I to undertake our mission to visit, teach and support Jews in the Soviet Union. Without Judy's wealth of knowledge and warm support, I do not know how we would have managed. That her work has continued and been reshaped with changing circumstances over all the intervening years bespeaks the heart, mind and utter dedication Judy has brought to this cause and the people it serves. There are people who perform mitzvot, and then there are people who turn their lives into an enduring mitzvah. Judy belongs in the latter category. Blessings, Judy, as you move toward retirement!

Rabbi Neil Kominsky
On this very special anniversary of your important work at the Action, I would like to congratulate you, Judy, and wish you years of active life in good health so that you can now accomplish all those things, which you always wanted to do, but never had enough time to actually get to doing them. I was very privileged to have known, worked and traveled with you. I will always remember and cherish our trips to Ukraine and Belorus.

I have come to know you as an extraordinarily wise and big-hearted woman.

Happy Anniversary and Happy Birthday!
Wishing you to stay strong and enjoy life

Galina Z.
Thank you, Judy, for your inspiration, dedication, and leadership. Through your work you have brought freedom, hope and sustenance to so many.

Emily and Dana

Judy Patkin for the wonderful work she has done for 45 years at Action for (Post) Soviet Jewry.

Abby Brown
Judy and Boston Action for Soviet Jewry were an integral part of the community-based activist wing of the Soviet Jewry movement, tirelessly advocating for our brethren in the USSR, and helping to welcome them in their new homes in freedom. When almost all of us closed up our offices when the USSR collapsed, Action kept striding along. When the parade passed by and the cheering stopped, Judy and Action established critical and effective relationships with Jews in need in Ukraine, Belarus and Moldova. And they haven't been only friends from afar, but personally visiting cities and towns, many off the beaten path. This is chesed of the highest order. We, veterans of the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry (and now a bit older than student age!) remained in awe of Judy's dedication and focus.

May Debbie and her team be blessed with similar success.

Glenn Richter
Judy's courageous personality is something to admire. Few people would have ventured to places, and in most challenging times, to do the work she has continued to do to this day. Hundreds of people's lives have been changed by her programs and organization. Thank you Judy!

Laura and Ery Magasanik

We admire: Her persistence. How she continued to work on behalf of the Jews of the former Soviet Union for these many years. Our favorite memory: Traveling with Judy a few summers ago to Ukraine, visiting families with her, seeing the marvelous work she was doing, and how her elderly clients loved her.

Adele and Joel Sandberg

Thank you, Judy!

Judy Patkin has been a valued, respected, and beloved colleague for more than thirty-five years. Our organization worked in the Caucasus and Central Asian republics of the former Soviet Union and collaborated with Action for Soviet Jewry whenever Judy had cases in our area. Judy always could be relied upon to do whatever she had promised to do in a timely and professional manner. We stood in awe when she transitioned her organization into an on-the-ground charity and repeatedly traveled to Ukraine to facilitate hands-on work that undoubtedly eased – and even saved – the lives of elderly Jews, many of whom were Holocaust survivors. Yasher koach and a well-deserved rest to one of our favorite comrades in the Soviet Jewry movement.

My SSSJ colleague Henry Gerber Z”L and I shlepped for years on an almost annual basis to the Action office in Waltham in a rented van filled to the brim with quality clothing collected by my shulmates at Lincoln Square Synagogue in Manhattan. Judy and often her colleagues would be there to welcome us with delicious sandwiches from a kosher deli in Brookline. We'd marvel at the hundreds of clothing items Judy's team were stuffing into boxes to be shipped to the Former Soviet Union, and feel like we entered a time capsule, being in the only community-based Soviet Jewry office still around, transitioning from advocacy to direct care.

Thank you, Judy, for everything you have done.

When I think about Judy it’s her quiet power and determination that I admire most. Doggedly focused on one goal, she will leap tall buildings herself to bring help to needy Jews. She is the personification of how one person, mobilizing just a small army of the willing, can be a force for good in the world.

Ann Levin

Dear Judy
Here are some memories of the big rally in Washington 1987. I will never forget the impact you had on me when I became a board member of AFSJ in 1978 and joined the fight for refuseniks.

I wish you a long enjoyable retirement. With admiration.

Galina Nizhnikov
In her letter to Zeya Krasko, Judy wrote: “Thank you for introducing me to Tarusa Hospital and Maxim Osipov. I hope we helped them a little”.

Maxim Osipov, a cardiologist and a writer, whose books were translated to 18 languages, including last year publication in English, lives and works in Tarusa, a small town 60 miles from Moscow. He established a charitable foundation to ensure the survival of Tarusa hospital and to improve its standard of care. Since I knew Maxim from his childhood years in Moscow and was aware of difficulties Tarusa hospital was experiencing, I told Judy about it.

Judy’s response was: “Sure, let’s help them”. Since that time we sent to Tarusa hospital many boxes with all kind of medical supplies - surgical, orthopedic, gloves. I told Maxim about forthcoming celebration and he emailed me the following greeting for Judy:

Dear Judy, Many happy returns of this day! Here in Tarusa we are very grateful for all you did to our small hospital throughout all these years. God bless you, and many, many thanks from all of us!

Maxim.

Judy is an angel on earth. The work she has done has kept so many people alive! I have always been in awe of her work and her dedication. I feel honored to have worked with her over these past 20 years. When I think of taking care of the elderly with dignity, I can only think of Adopt a Bubbe and Warm Houses- 2 of my most favorite programs. Wishing her good health in her retirement.

Beth & Michael Moskowitz
Greetings from UCSJ:
Judy is extremely effective in all her activities. Thou outwardly restrain, she is extremely sensitive to other people's hardships, responsive, responsible, reliable, generous and modest. Whenever we applied to her with problems of our Moscow refuseniks community, or with our own ones, she reacted immediately and always was helpful.

I will never forget how Judy, at one of her visits to Moscow, presented me with a beautiful, brand-new jacket. For refuseniks, it was the time of total deficit for everything. I was very pleased and grateful to her. But the best was ahead: in several days a meeting was appointed in the Great Britain Embassy in Moscow of several refuseniks with Prime-minister Margaret Thatcher. I have proudly put on Judy's jacket and feel quite confident. I have and save like a treasure a picture of the meeting. On it, I am just next to Margaret...my jacket was more elegant than her's!

Thank you, Judy!!!
