❖ From Our President's Desk

Christopher Spellman

Dear Family and Friends of Temple Isaiah,

The holidays are approaching and I know everyone is looking forward to spending time with loved ones at home and at our own Temple Isaiah/JCC. We have had a long year, one – in my opinion – which has brought us all closer together. More than we have been in 40 years. That is a testament to the fiber of our synagogue and everyone in it. I hope everyone holds onto this special moment being a part of Temple's Isaiah's long history.

Jews Do the Blues Too was a smash hit. Rabbi Lazar, along with a team of volunteers, brought home a year end fundraiser that surely will become an annual tradition. Perhaps even semi-annual with more convincing. Major kudos for everything that went into putting on this event, which was joyful and profitable for the Temple.

Please support our Toy Drive for the families serviced by Well in the Desert. Bring toys now through December 23rd and drop them in the bins located in the Temple lobby. These are real 'gifts' for those without. (See page 8 for details).

As the end of the year approaches and you are wanting to get your tax deduction in for 2017, drop off the balance of your membership dues or – for non-members, take this moment to join the Temple. And, for everyone: consider making an additional gift! It's always welcome.

December 19th is our annual congregational meeting in the Bochner, followed by refreshments. Please come with your hearts on your sleeve and look around the room at everyone in attendance, remembering they are a friend and Temple family member. I personally am walking in with a smile and intend to leave with a smile. There is a positive outlook for our future with lots of hard work being put into place.

Please always remember Shabbat services are for all of us to be together. It's a gift.

Happy Hanukkah!

Sincerely,

Christopher Spellman

❖ From the Rabbi's Study Rabbi David Lazar

There is no particular stipulation that the Hanukkah lights be lit in a menorah, or hanukiyah, especially designed or made for this purpose. The Talmud (Brachot 21b) simply states:

Our Rabbis taught: The precept of Hanukkah requires one light for every household, however, the zealous kindle a light for each member of the household; and as for the extremely zealous: the school of Shammai maintains: On the first night eight lights are lit and thereafter they are gradually reduced, but the school of Hillel maintains: On the first day, one is lit and thereafter they are progressively increased...

At that time, lights were lit individually in ceramic lamps much like this, typical of those found in the Land of Israel in late antiquity:

We know that many poor Jews in Poland and Russia lit candles on Hanukkah in hollowed-out halved potatoes. When I was in the army, out in the field, we used spent ammo casings as candle holders.

Here is an example of how Afghani Jews observed the mitzvah of Hanukkah lights in the mid-20th century (Gross Family Collection, Tel Aviv):

Of course, Hanukkah menorahs can be as ornate and expensive as this one from mid-19th century Vienna (Gross Family Collection, Tel Aviv):

If you're interested in learning more about Hanukkah menorahs from around the world, join me at the Palm Springs Art Museum on Thursday, December 21st at 6:00 pm as I speak on the topic of "No Religion is an Island: Hanukkah candelabras from around the world." (See page 6).

As I mentioned, the important act is the lighting itself, of the Hanukkah lights. The Talmud goes on to state that these lights are not to be used for reading or seeing, but are intended to be gazed at in order to remember the miraculous story behind the holiday.

I would add that perhaps the most important part of lighting these physical lights is their ability to encourage us to "light up" the lives of those around us, especially those most in need. There are many ways to "light up" at this time of year in our community:

1. Consider inviting others over to your home in order to light the Hanukkah candles together, especially those who live alone. Share a meal with someone new!
2. Attend the Temple for our annual membership meeting and Hanukkah candle lighting – let your voice be heard!
3. Join us at the Hard Rock Hotel on Sunday, December 17, 5:00-8:00 pm for a community wide Hanukkah Party featuring the "Klezmer Juice" band – be part of our community outreach!
4. Participate in our toy drive (at least $10 worth, unwrapped) to be given out at Well in the Desert's Christmas dinner and join me that day, Wednesday, December 25, 11:00 am, at the Palm Springs Convention Center to help welcome and serve guests who will come in from all over Coachella Valley – make a total stranger happy!
5. Take part in the January 23rd Riverside County Point in Time Homeless Count. This is an annual survey of the local sheltered and unsheltered homeless population, which is crucial to planning and implementing progress in this important issue. For more info: <https://www.riversidehomelesscounts.com/> - make a difference!

Hag Urim Sameah – May it be a wonderful Festival of Lights for all of us!

Rabbi David Lazar

Volunteer to help serve at Well in the Desert's annual Christmas dinner Monday, December 25th from 11:00 AM to 3:00 PM. Call our office to let us know you're coming: 760-325-2281.

❖ From the Executive Director Doug Morton

As always, we have a wonderfully full December.

Hanukkah begins Tuesday night, December 12th ... and we are celebrating together as a congregation on the last night, at our

Annual Meeting, Tuesday, December 19th at 6:00 pm.

At the Annual Meeting we are filling three Board positions. Our president, Christopher Spellman, is running for his second three-year term as a member of the Board. Nominated for the other two positions are Joan Behrmann and Steve Gorosh.

Their bios were included in the election materials - including ballots - mailed out last week. If you haven't received your ballot in the mail with the bios please contact us at the office so that we may send them to you immediately. Remember, each member gets a vote.

As part of the Annual Meeting, we will be giving you information on where the Temple is in providing a long term plan that will enable us to become more financially secure.

Following the meeting, we'll be lighting the Hanukkah menorah and have a chance to visit while noshing on latkes. I look forward to seeing you!

By the time you read this the fabulous "Jews Do the Blues Concert" is history. You need to know that Rabbi Lazar, along with his team of Soo Borson, Madalina Garza, Ira Helf, David Morgan and Tom Stansbury worked so hard to find wonderful sponsors and put together the great event. Thank you to everyone who has worked on this, but especially thank you to Rabbi who took it upon himself to put together this wonderful event and necessary fundraiser.

Speaking of fundraising, a gigantic thank you goes out to our Finance Committee, which consists of Soo Borson, Robert Fey, Steve Gorosh, Richard Jeffery and myself. This committee has spent hours reviewing the 2017-2018 budget as of the end of the first quarter and made the budget very realistic. If all goes well, we are currently projecting a deficit of approximately $87,600. When you come to the meeting you'll see how we intend to cover this deficit in the future. In the meantime, anything we can do to support the Temple during the remainder of this fiscal year (through June 2018) will help reduce this number. Further questions and details about our finances will be answered during the annual meeting.

Be sure to check out the ad (page 6) for Twice Blessed's screening of "Golden Boys" at the Camelot Theatre on Thursday, December 14th, co-sponsored by Jewish Federation of the Desert The film focuses on 10 elderly gay men who gather every week in the LGBT Center of Tel-Aviv.

Complimentary wine will be served at 6:30 followed by a screening at 7:15. There will be a short discussion led by Rabbi Lazar immediately following. Tickets are $10 for Temple members and $15 for non-members. Get your tickets online at our website: www.templeisaiahps.com or call the office at 760-325-2281. This promises to be a very special evening.

Please remember to bring toys for our Hanukkah Toy Drive benefitting Well in the Desert. You may bring your donations to the Temple now through December 23rd and place them in the donation bins located in the foyer. Lets all do a little something to make someone who might be less fortunate a little happier.

I look forward to seeing you all here in December at the Temple as we round off 2017.

Shalom,

Douglas
