TWO SPECIAL KIDDUSHES IN JUNE

Saturday, June 10: Kiddush honoring Cantor Sam Radwine in appreciation of his filling in when Rabbi was away and wishing him the best with his move to Arkansas.

Saturday, June 17: Sascha Lazar and friends are preparing a special kiddush in celebration of Rabbi and her birthdays this month. (Rabbi is turning 60!)

We would love to have you attend Shabbat morning services every week ... but we extend a special invitation for you to join us at these two special Shabbat morning services and kiddush celebrations on June 10th and 17th.

❖ From Our President's Desk

Christopher Spellman

Dear Fellow Congregants,

As the new President of Temple Isaiah, I would like to introduce myself to those congregants who do not yet know me, as well as re-introduce myself to those that do.

I have served on the board for the last three years, most recently as Vice-President. I have been attending Temple Isaiah since the late 1970's with my family and you'll find me here most Saturday mornings. While I recognize that our attendance Friday evening is much larger than Shabbat morning, I personally find the morning service more meaningful. I particularly enjoy the Torah reading with commentaries and insights that Rabbi Lazar shares with us. Through this weekly practice, I feel a real connection with my Jewish ancestors and a strong bond with our tradition.

I think that all of us share that desire to connect with our Jewish tradition and develop our spiritual identity and practice in a safe and nourishing environment. This is why we attend services, classes and lectures, social events and tikkun olam activities, and yes, this is why we pay our annual dues!

As most of you know, there has been a great deal of discussion over the last 6 months with regard to our long-term financial stability. Some are of the opinion that we must sell our building and downsize to a property more appropriate for our size now and what we expect the congregation to be in the next 5-10 years. Others feel that we have not yet exhausted all of our options that would allow us to stay put at our historic site. Thankfully, through the generosity of one of our members,

Harold Matzner, who has covered our operating deficit for the last fiscal year, we are able to utilize the next few months in order to responsibly prepare two alternative plans for our future. Two teams are simultaneously working on these proposals and we hope to have both ready by the High Holidays. At that time, we will once again call a general meeting of our membership and, soon after, make a decision.

In the meantime, there is much to do with regard to the ongoing operations of our congregation. We have a number of committees – Membership, Fundraising, Facility, Women's Auxiliary, Social Action and Prayer - that are currently reassessing our yearly goals and working towards a greater level of accountability for all who are responsible for getting the day to day work done at Temple Isaiah. Please let me know directly (cspellman126@aol.com) if you feel you'd like to contribute in one of these areas.

We have successfully increased our membership over the last 2 years, as well as attendance at services, classes and programs. Not a week goes by when at least a number of congregational events are taking place in our building – even in the summer months! But there still remains much to do. I know that we can, and will, get this done together. We are truly blessed and I look forward to sharing that blessing in wider and wider circles in the year to come!

Sincerely,

Christopher Spellman, President

We need your participation to help our Temple thrive!

As our president asked in his article above, please contribute your time, energies and expertise by serving on one of our Temple committees:

- FUNDRAISING
- MEMBERSHIP
- FACILITIES
- WOMEN'S AUXILIARY
- PRAYER
- SOCIAL ACTION

Christopher invites you to contact him directly at Cspellman126@aol.com ... or you can leave your name and phone number with Larea in the office.

Thank you!

❖ From the Rabbi's Study Rabbi David Lazar

This time of year, we begin to read the book of Numbers at the Torah service on Shabbat mornings. The first two chapters of Numbers tell of the census Moses takes of the tribes of Israel and describe their arrangement in the camp. The next two chapters list in great detail – far greater detail than the two previous chapters – each of the clans of the tribe of Levi, who were responsible for the duties of service and portage relating to the Tent of Meeting, the Tabernacle that accompanied the Children of Israel during their wanderings in the desert. In other words, these two Levite chapters with 88 verses in all, are dedicated to 96% percent of the eligible males who were counted, compared to 100 verses in the following two chapters for just 4% of those from the tribe of Levi!

One of the key words we find in these passages is the Hebrew root NS" A, having to do with carrying something, or being "carried," which in this context means to be "counted." The Levites of age appear to have "counted" more than their contemporaries in the other tribes who were the ones who actually went out to war. Perhaps this is because while war was an occasional event, the Levites were responsible for "schlepping" the Tabernacle parts, assembling these parts at each new location of encampment, and breaking down upon departure, tasks done constantly on a regular basis.

I believe the ongoing dedication of these Levites to their seemingly unglamorous task of portage earned them the detailed attention of the author/editor of the book of Numbers.

Regarding our own journey today at Temple Isaiah, we might well learn a lesson from this ancient tradition. Many among us have voiced strong opinions about the future of our congregation, yet they have not come forward to share the recent increased burden of "schlepping" – sitting on committees, raising money and overall helping out with the day to day running of our community as we face our future in a serious and responsible manner.

Whether our future lies at the historical site of Temple Isaiah or at another, smaller facility, we will always need many to share in the burden of the often thankless work of ensuring the vitality of our congregation. Please come forward and help us "schlep."

❖ From the Executive Director Douglas Morton

Hello everyone!

The three digit temperatures are back. Once again those of us that remain in Palm Springs can celebrate with air conditioned movie theatres, dipping in our swimming pools and, best of all, attending our Temple Isaiah Socials! We have booked the three socials for this summer ... and they are terrific! Put them on your calendar so you can be sure to join us:

① Thursday, June 15 – 5:00 – 7:00 P.M. at 360 Bistro at 360 N. Palm Canyon. If you haven't been there you'll love Tony and his staff. Many thanks to Shoshana Barer for making this happen.

② Tuesday, July 25 – 5:00 7:00 P.M. at Appetito S. Camino Real. We had a social there a few years ago and what great food they served!

③ Tuesday, August 29 – 5:00 – 7:00 Eight4Nine. Once again we will join Willie and his team for a wonderful chance to have some quality schmooze time.

It is really important that you RSVP and we have our handy reservation phone line for you to call in 24/7: 760-844-7305.

Help us celebrate Rabbi Lazar's 60th birthday at the Kiddush immediately following the 10 a.m. Saturday morning Shabbat Services on Saturday, June 17. Sascha and some of our members will be bringing special treats for the Kiddush. Email Sascha (saschalazar@gmail.com) if you'd like to bring something too. We'll help make Rabbi's birthday special just by being here.

Have you visited the Temple lately? If so, you've seen that it has been painted a lovely shade of white. I have to say, it looks fabulous! Thanks to everyone who gave us input on the color and especially thank you, thank you, thank you to Harold Matzner, Ron & Carol Fragen and Bob & Cheryl Fey for making this happen. The building looks amazing.

Just to keep you up on the latest the Board is very busy working on a budget that will work for us during the next fiscal year. I will update everyone once the new budget is passed.

Last but NOT LEAST, once again, it's time for membership dues. The Board agreed that we repeat again the early bird special, 10% off due though July 18. We all know the issues the Temple is facing and what we're dealing with, so now, more than ever, if you are able to I strongly encourage you to raise your membership to the next level. Membership dues information will be sent through e-mail and the U.S. mail.

I'm looking forward to being together with you for another great year at Temple Isaiah!

Shalom, Douglas
