SEDER NASHIM

"Cliques" or Community?

4:30 PM | Home of Susan Fink | 1487 S. Crest Dr.

Without question, our warm relationships and friendships with one another are a pillar of our experience at BDJ. In our natural need for closeness, we form tighter bonds with some people and not others – but are these smaller groups “cliques” or simply their own vision of community? What are some substantive ways for us to get to know other women in shul who are outside of our personal demographics? (We think Seder Nashim is one way!) Alternatively, what are the benefits of spending time with those in a similar place in life? Together we will navigate the complex push and pull of subgroups, while making space for voices of all kinds.

*BDJ's women-only series focuses on topics that touch us as Modern Orthodox women. All women are welcome. Last event of the year!

UPCOMING PROGRAMS

NOSH N' DROSH...THE SUMMER SERIES BEGINS!

Shabbat, June 15 | 5:00 PM | Home of Dorit Naftalin & Harry Nelson | 1538 S. Canfield
Is "Kosher Enough" Kosher Enough?

How we keep kosher can either exclude people from - or welcome people into - our homes. But Kashrut is not only a social ticket in our community, it is also a spiritual value that communicates our credibility as Orthodox Jews. Where are the practical, halachic lines below which it's just not "kosher enough"? How and why do our personal decisions about what we eat impact each other? Join Rav Yosef and Rabbanit Alissa in this highly practical and reflective conversation to enhance our observance of this mitzvah as well as our sense of community! Visit www.bnaidavid.com/noshndrosh for more info. Childcare provided.

ISRAEL COMMITTEE

"Combatting the New Anti-Semitism: Re-asserting the Legitimacy of Israel and Zionism" with Aryeh Green, Director Emeritus, MediaCentral
Shabbat, June 22 | 6:00 PM |

Understanding how to distinguish between reasonable criticism of Israel policies and the new anti-Semitism, in a compelling and simple fashion, helps us all to cope with today's environment of fractious debate, whether on campus, in the media, with our elected representatives, or around the dining room table. Aryeh will explore a number of fundamental myths which underlie the unfortunate hostility toward Israel in public discourse today, and will offer tools to use in our discussions with others, based on Natan Shransky's "3D" analysis of modern anti-Semitism, which Aryeh helped create.
