

Our creator, our source, we have done wrong in your presence.

Shechina (Indwelling Presence), we are imperfect. We pray that you forgive and accept us.

Our creator, our source, we have no one to rule over us but you.

Ma-ayan Raz (Mysterious Well) help those who are driven or paralyzed by fear to feel safe and able to let go of the fear. Help us remain humble and open to ideas and actions that we can only accomplish when we work together.

Our creator, our source, help us for the honor of your name.

Open the minds of those who need to learn the truth. May we have the wisdom to forgive the Creator because in the midst of death, destruction and loss, We still affirm that life is a transcendent gift.

Our creator, our source, renew for us a good year.

Oseh Shalom (Giver of Peace) help bring peace and safety for all the people of the world Show us the way to a year of goodness. Renew our belief that the world can be better. Restore our faith in life. Restore our faith in You.

Our creator, our source, nullify the plans of any who may seek to do us harm.

May we have the compassion to forgive others Who have offended or disappointed us – Because, like us, they're only human.

Our creator, our source, grant forgiveness and atonement for all of our transgressions.

Av HaRachamim (Source of Compassion) May we have the courage to forgive ourselves – For with all our compromises and betrayals, we each still carry a divine spark.

Our creator, our source, help us to return wholeheartedly into your presence.

Provide enough strength for everyone trying to repair the world. Though we are not responsible for completing the task of repairing the world, help us to fulfill our responsibility to rise up with others and strive towards our individual and collective responsibility to seek justice and well being for all people.

Our creator, our source send thorough healing to all those who ail.

Rachameyma (Compassionate Giver, Nurturer of Life) send thorough healing for a physically and psychologically healthy and sustainable planet.

Our creator, our source, inscribe us for good fortune in the Book of Life.

Mekor HaHayim, Thank you for health and ability which allows us to stand up and show up.

Our creator, our source, inscribe us in the Book of Redemption and Salvation.

Give us courage and wisdom to help people all over the world but not turn our backs on the neighbors outside of our door.

Our creator, our source, inscribe us in the Book of Sustenance and Livelihood.

Ha-olam, Thank you for those who provide us with knowledge about what needs to be done and who inspire us to follow their example. Thank you for loving and supportive families and friends who enable us to volunteer to help others.

Give us the strength to go on. Give us reasons to get up each day. Give us purpose and persistence. Help us to fend off fear and to hold on to hope. Help us to be kind.

Our creator, our source, inscribe us in the Book of Merit.

Avinu Malkeinu, the Compassionate, give us the love, wisdom, and resources to play our role in ending hunger, homelessness, oppression, persecution, and destruction both in Jewish communities and in all the communities of the world.

Our creator, our source, inscribe us in the Book of Forgiveness and Atonement.

Help us to open our minds to receive wisdom and insights from everyone, to let go of our judgements of others, to be better listeners and allow us to see where we have erred.

Our creator, our source, let grow for us the tree of imminent redemption.

We pray for the kind of world we would like our children's children to live in. But, it's not sufficient for us to pray for forgiveness and a better world. We must work for it, for that alone is in our power.
