8:00 p.m. Thursday November 04, 2010

This highly-acclaimed documentary by KURT BRAZDA is about Austrian Holocaust survivor Rudolf Gelbard who, along with his parents, was deported to Theresienstadt in 1942. Gelbard leads the viewer to certain venues of his childhood in Vienna, where the "Jewboy" had to endure humiliation after Hitler's march into Austria in 1938.

This is the Canadian premiere of this documentary. (English subtitles)

Mr. Brazda is the founder of the Austrian Association of Cinematographers. He is an award-winning cinematographer, photographer and documentary film director. In addition, he teaches and lectures in film schools in Austria.

TALES OF COURAGE FROM THE SHOAH

Sunday November 07, 2010 - 11:00 a.m.

Miles Nadal JCC
750 Spadina Avenue Toronto

The Holocaust is often described as the "Kingdom of the Night." Yet, even during these dark years, there were those who rose up against evil. Women, men and children, Jew and non-Jew fought back with body and soul, physically and spiritually, showing heroism, kindness and compassion under the most trying conditions.

Their courageous stories will be explored by noted storyteller ELI RUBENSTEIN, National Director of the March of the Living and Religious Leader of Congregation Habonim.

CANADIAN FILM PREMIERE OF

Irena Sendler: In the Name of their Mothers

Sunday, December 12th, 7:30PM

95-year-old Irena Sendler tells the true story of a secret network of Polish women who rescueded thousands of Jewish children from the Warsaw ghetto and hid them until the end of the war. In 1943 the Gestapo captured Sendler, tortured her and sentenced her to death, but she refused to divulge anything about the women or the hidden children.

She escaped on the day she was to be executed when the Polish Resistance bribed a German guard. All of the 2500 children rescued by her conspiracy survived the war and many were reunited with their Jewish families, but for decades, they could not tell their stories. The new Communist regime in Poland silenced former members of the Polish Resistance and most of Sendler's liaisons were persecuted or exiled.

Over 65 years later they can finally speak about their wartime work as the once hidden Jewish children return to Warsaw to re-unite with their Polish protectors.

Co-Sponsored by Polish-Jewish Heritage Foundation of Canada & "TriDelta Financial".

DOCUMENTARY FILM SERIES

The 2010/2011 Habonim Documentary Film Series is sponsored by:

TriDelta Financial Partners
www.tridelta.ca

Over the coming months we will be screening a variety of interesting documentary movies showcasing some aspect of contemporary or recent past Jewish life. Some movies have been created by local young film makers, others by well known documentary film makers. All will be entertaining, thought provoking and sometimes heartrending. We will endeavor to follow each screening with a panel discussion consisting of relevant experts, hopefully the film's director and others with intimate knowledge and experience of the subject.

---

Please join us. Bring a few friends along.

If you know of any documentary film maker who would like to submit a film to us for screening, please have them contact Eli Rubenstein (uiaeli@passport.ca) or Paul Kuttner (office@congregationhabonim.org).
