

Intercultural Journeys presents Udi Bar-David and Hanna Khoury:
From Tarshiha to Rabin Center

On Sunday, January 22, acclaimed cellist Udi Bar-David and violinist Hanna Khoury (2010 Pew Fellow and founder of Al-Bustan Seeds of Culture), will recount their recent experiences in Israel while traveling with the Interfaith Center of Greater Philadelphia, in partnership with Intercultural Journeys. Through musical selections, sounds, and video, the concert illustrates the vibrant sound world of the musicians' journey. Hanna and Udi will be joined by master percussionist Hafez Kotain (2013 Pew Fellow).

When: Sunday, January 22, 7 pm

Where: International House, 3701 Chestnut Street

Tickets: $15 ($8 with valid student

ID), <https://www.ticketfly.com/purchase/event/1311057>

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/events/290275514701395/>

And join us before the concert at 4:30 pm for our free community potluck and discussion series, Food for Thought. In this installment, we'll be discussing the recent peace trip that the Interfaith Center of Greater Philadelphia planned to the Middle East in tandem with Philadelphia Orchestra cellist Udi Bar-David and Al Bustan Seeds of Culture Music Director Hanna Khoury. Our guest speakers will share their insights from the trip and how we can continue to cultivate peace.