A Time to be Born and A Time to Die

The families of our congregation are blessed with many simchahs. Nearly every week a Temple Sinai family is celebrating as their child becomes a Bar or Bat Mitzvah, while another is ecstatically welcoming a new baby to bless their lives. Weddings and anniversaries abound throughout our Temple schedule. These are times of joy and cheer. These are times when family and friends gather to lift up glasses with happiness and fill the air with exuberant song and laughter.

While good friends and family make every simchah joyous, the times when we really need the strength and support of community and Jewish tradition is when we are reeling after the death of a loved one. How incongruous it is that we often spend months and months to plan the “perfect” Bar/Bat Mitzvah service and party, and wedding plans can extend even longer (and take even longer than that to pay off!), and yet none, but a few of us, will take the time to make even the most basic preparations for the inevitable mortal end that awaits us all. Yes, King Solomon is credited with writing 3000 years ago that there is “A time to be born and a time to die” (Kohelet, Chapter 3), but we too often fail to ready ourselves and our families for the end of life.

As you can well imagine, the death of a loved one shakes families to the core. The sudden tsunami of emotion and grief, coupled with the exhausting responsibilities of arranging for the appropriate funeral and burial, can overwhelm us. At the very moment when we need time to process and deal with our loss and our grief, we are bombarded with burdensome decisions and logistics.

Jim Cohen, President of Feldman Mortuary, and I will offer a special program to help guide families and answer their questions about funeral planning and Jewish mourning traditions. On Wednesday, March 22, 6:00-7:30 p.m., we will review the details and procedures that every family has to face at the death of our loved ones. It goes without saying that private and follow-up discussions about your family’s specific needs will be handled in a sensitive and confidential manner.

It is taught that the respectful and tender way with which we honor the dead and help mourners in their time of grief is the highest expression of gemilut chasadim, acts of loving kindness. These acts should be well thought out and be responsive to the individual needs of every family. We pray that this important evening of learning will prove to be helpful to you.

Please know that the Temple Sinai community is here for you both during times and occasions of joyful celebration, as well as during times of loss and struggle.

B’vakah,

Thank You, Amy Becker!

For well over twenty years, Amy Becker has been a beloved leader at Temple Sinai. She served as Program Director, Preschool Director, Assistant Executive Director and, for the past several years, as our Executive Director. With each position of leadership, Amy has distinguished herself as a passionate, talented, creative and enthusiastic dynamo! Most recently, Amy played a significant and integral role on Temple Sinai’s Building Our Future project. It goes without saying that the success of that campaign was, in large part, due to Amy’s total devotion as she oversaw nearly every detail.

It is quite evident to the staff, Board of Trustees and to every actively engaged Sinai member that Amy’s passion and generosity of spirit are woven through the fabric of Temple Sinai.

As she begins the next part of her professional journey, let us all take the time to appreciate what she has done for us and to say: Thank You, Amy Becker!

We also want to welcome Lorne Maltenfort as our new Executive Director and wish him great success. Temple Sinai has a well-deserved reputation for being a very warm and welcoming spiritual home. Please help us make Lorne feel right at home by sharing with him your positive support and friendship. There will be a special Oneg to welcome Lorne on Friday, March 17 after the Shabbat service.

Musical Memorial Tribute to Mike Weiker z”l
Sunday, April 2, 2017 at 3:30 p.m.

Mike Weiker z”l, the long-time musical director of Temple Sinai’s Adult Choir, died on January 13. He taught, directed, conducted and inspired our members to musical heights that helped transform our High Holy Day services to spiritual bliss.

In honor of his remarkable life, his family and Temple Sinai are organizing a Musical Memorial Tribute to Mike Weiker z”l. Choirs and musicians from near and far will perform moving pieces to honor his memory in the most fitting way of all—through music.

The service will be held in the Zwerin Sanctuary, and all are welcome and encouraged to attend.

Our deepest sympathy to Mike’s family, his beloved wife, Mary Jo Weiker, his cherished children, Leah Hamilton and Aaron Weiker, his grandchildren, and to all who knew and loved him.
Going Up to Israel

I am delighted to share with you the news that the 2017 Temple Sinai Israel Adventure is sold out! How fabulous it is that so many Temple Sinai members, either through organized tours or on their own, fulfill the hopeful words exclaimed each year at the conclusion of the Pesach seder: L’shanah HaBa’ah Birushalayim, Next Year in Jerusalem! We look forward to sharing the highlights of our upcoming tour with you and hope that our reminiscences will inspire you to join Rick and me for the next Temple Sinai Israel Adventure in 2018. For those considering going to Israel individually, please feel free to contact me for itinerary recommendations. I’m always happy to help.

What is Purim All About?

On Purim we recall how the Jewish community of ancient Persia was saved by Esther and Mordechai. Esther was the unlikeliest of heroines. Her parents died when she was a child and her cousin (Mordechai) raised her. It was not easy being a Jew in Persia’s capital of Shushan. Mordechai advised Esther to conceal the fact that she was a Jew. Esther miraculously was selected to be Persia’s new Queen. Even so, she shuddered in fear of the maniacal Haman as he plotted to destroy the Jewish people. Who would have thought that Esther would save the Jewish community from Haman? But save us she did! Imagine the terrible disaster that would have happened if not for her. Like Esther, every single member of the Jewish community can make a difference!

What are some ways to observe Purim?

In Megillat Esther 9:22, we are told: “Make days of feasting and gladness and of sending gifts to one another.” This verse forms the basis of the mitzvot of Purim.

- Mishloach manot means: “Sending gifts of food.” It is a mitzvah to send at least two different items, one baked and the other fruit, to family and friends.
- Matanot l’ev-yo-nim means: “Giving gifts of food to the poor.” It is a mitzvah to give tzedakah on Purim and thereby share our joy and lift the spirits of those less fortunate.
- It is a mitzvah to attend our Purim services, hear a public reading of the Megillah of Esther, give thanks for our miraculous rescue, and rejoice with the Jewish community.
- Make your own gragger! The special noisemaker we use to stamp out the mention of evil Haman’s name is called a “gragger” in Yiddish or “ra-a-shan” in Hebrew.

Find excellent recommendations for the celebration of every Jewish holiday on the website of the Union for Reform Judaism.

MOVING FORWARD WHEN LIFE CHANGES
March 1 (Wednesday)
Nancy Sharp was living a dream life in New York City when fate dealt her an unexpected blow. With her five-year-old twins in hand, and no family support, she moved to Denver for solace. Two decades later, she is happily married to Steve Saunders (son of columnist Dusty Saunders). She wrote the book Both Sides Now: A True Story of Love, Loss and Bold Living and has become a local and national speaker on bold living and how to find your own resilience.

ANTI-SEMITISM THEN AND NOW: From Leo Frank in 1913 to Our New Reality
March 15 (Wednesday)
On April 27, 1913, a 13-year-old employee of the National Pencil Factory in Atlanta Georgia, Mary Phagan, was found beaten and strangled in the basement factory. Shortly thereafter Leo Frank, the factory’s Jewish superintendent, was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to death in an atmosphere of virulent anti-Semitism. The case gained national attention and ultimately led to the formation of both the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Defamation League. Please join us on March 15 as Carol Ungar presents the details of this astonishing case and Scott Levin, Regional Director of the Mountain States Region of the Anti-Defamation, discuss the New Reality of anti-Semitism, here and abroad.

END OF LIFE DECISIONS

Temple Sinai's 15-year Partnership with Habitat Interfaith Alliance:
Building Homes, Building Hopes, Building Community

Temple Sinai has been an integral part of Habitat Interfaith Alliance (HIA) for 15 years. We’re a dedicated group of representatives from 13 interfaith congregations in the Denver Metro area. Since HIA began in 2001, Sinai members have joined together with congregants from Catholic, Protestant, Unitarian and Jewish faiths to build more than just homes. HIA is one of only two interfaith affiliates under the umbrella organization, Habitat for Humanity Metro Denver, that has built or repaired 738 homes in the Denver metro area.

This April we will be building our 16th home. It will be for Ali Hussein, his wife, Juda and their three children, who immigrated to Colorado four years ago after serving as an interpreter for the United States military in Iraq. If you are interested in making a positive impact on individuals and their families, supporting HIA is an opportunity to do just that! We would love more Temple Sinai members to become part of our HIA committee.

We just completed one of our fundraisers, the annual Soup Cook Off. Temple Sinai member Ann Leviton was one of the winners!

Upcoming events include:
March 18th 6:30-9:00 p.m. Music Concert at The Mercury Café. Tickets are $25.
June 12th is our annual Golf Classic at Inverness Resort and Golf Club. Sign up to play in a four-some or to sponsor a hole!

Temple Sinai Board member Bruce Tully will be our Moderator for the evening. Rabbi Rick Rheins will give us some insights about what the Torah teaches us about people with diseases (of the mind and body). Joel and Zach Appel will share a very personal story of their journey. And, Erin Ralston, MA, LPCC, NCC will help us understand and recognize symptoms and behaviors, talk about treatment, and explain the physiology of addiction. There will also be plenty of time for Q & A.

Whether addiction has touched your life or not, please join us as we come together as a community for this important program.

Free and ALL are welcome. RSVP appreciated to cindy@sinaidenver.org.

Temple Sinai’s 9Health Fair

Sunday, April 2, 2017
7 a.m. to Noon

Take advantage of the many free and low cost health screenings that will be offered at the Temple Sinai 9Health Fair. You can register online by going to 9healthfair.org and clicking on "attend a 9Health Fair" and "Find a Fair."

If you wish to be a volunteer (either medical or non-medical), please go to www.9healthfair.org and click on “Volunteer,” “Sign Up to Volunteer” and select Temple Sinai. All 9Health Fair volunteers will qualify for a 20% discount on the low-cost screens (including blood related screens and the colorectal kit).

We will need assistance setting up the Temple Sinai 9Health Fair on Saturday, April 1 beginning at Noon. If you are available to assist or if you have questions, please contact our Site Leader, Lin Sunshine, at linj.sunshine@gmail.com or 303-748-0866.

Are You a Snowbird?

If the answer to this question is yes, or if you plan to be away from home for an extended period of time and have the Post Office hold your mail, please provide the Temple Sinai office with the dates that you’ll be away along with a forwarding address, if available.

The Post Office does not forward bulk mail. If you are temporarily away, the Post Office returns bulk mailings from Temple Sinai back to us for a fee (the return fee may seem small, but they add up quickly). We greatly appreciate your help in keeping our costs to a minimum.

Should you have any questions, or know that you will be away for a period of time, please contact Lin Sunshine at 303-759-1827 or email at lin@sinaidenver.org.
